

Empowering Women to Create Meaningful Change in the World

Nov 22, 2021

Dear JourneyWoman,

I'm thrilled to share a first for JourneyWoman - announcing Women's Travel Wisdom, a five-day travel and wellness retreat designed to empower women to create positive change through travel. I've been working on this very special event for months, in partnership with Doni Belau, CEO and Founder of Girls' Guide to Paris. Doni is one of the original members of our Women's Travel Advisory Council and is a pure powerhouse with a heart of gold. I am so honoured to be creating this experience with her.

Drawing on the wisdom of best-selling authors, life coaches, activists, award-winning photographers and entrepreneurs, Women's Travel Wisdom features inspiring speakers and workshops to provide you with the inspiration, knowledge and skills to change the world.

This isn't a conference or a festival - it's a retreat. In the spirit of healing and wellness, it will be an alcohol-free, vegetarian event, as we're conscious of our impact on the earth and on animals. We've chosen a natural, holistic, serene venue that invites meaningful conversations -- all of our sessions will be outside, in nature, where we have space to breathe and connect.

"As we look to the future, we need to challenge conventional thinking on travel, develop a deeper understanding of ourselves and our world, and cultivate a more intentional mindset to empower women and local communities." – Carolyn Ray, CEO, JourneyWoman

"Now, more than ever before, we need to share our collective wisdom. We want this five-day retreat to be a clarion call for all women to draw upon profound knowledge and create meaningful change in the world with their own strong, powerful voices." – Doni Belau, CEO and Founder, Girls' Guide to Paris and Beyond

JourneyWoman™ is the most beloved and respected women's travel brand in the world, helping women travel safely and well for almost 30 years through its editorial and Women's Travel Directory.
