2 About us

nic – we set priorities

As a manufacturer of high-quality wooden toys, we have long been aware of the trend towards sustainability. Among parents in particular, this idea is growing in importance.

A movement that confirms our actions. Because for 28 years, sustainability has been one of our company's fundamental principles. From development to production and right up to the children's playroom, this is always a priority for our products.

Toys from our ranges impart values that are unique or rather in these days quite rare. In their early years, small children together with their parents discover impressive moments in stimulating the senses when playing with our toys. Because children learn by playing.

Creative, sturdy and valuable

Not just words for us but our overriding concern. Complying with this guideline may be becoming ever more demanding, but it promotes and enriches our creativity. Today the world is fast-moving, which is why play experiences for small children are becoming ever shorter. Which is exactly why we focus on children as our first consideration. Play value, feel and education are linked with special design in shape and colour, and also perfectly fashioned at the highest level of quality. Let us continue in this direction together in the future, to distinguish us and set these priorities.

Look forward now and in the future to new and established toys from our company.

We hope you have a lot of fun and enjoyment while browsing.

About us

Safety is our highest priority.

High-quality wooden toys have to put up with the way children treat them. This is often more than most toys can handle. However, we want you to go home with a flawless product. Therefore we apply the strictest requirements and guidelines to the nic wooden toys produced at our factory in southern Germany.

Our CE-compliant processes, as well as a number of other marks and seals of quality, give you the certainty of having chosen a valuable and outstanding toy.

The CE mark confirms that our products are in compliance with the European Standard for the safety of toys (EN 71). We use only selected wood, mainly beech and maple, from European forests certified for their sustainable forestry management standards. Further, our products are treated only with tested and certified varnishes and paints, primarily water-based. These are completely harmless to the environment and the health of children. Thus, these toys can be put into the mouths of even the smallest children, as even the dye released when in contact with saliva is completely harmless.

The aforementioned quality seals are not, however, a confirmation of the "indestructibility" of these toys. Our toys, as do most consumer items, react to a certain degree of wear and tear. Although our toys are compliant with all regulations applying to fall, tensile and impact tests, damage can occur through repeated exposure to impact and drops, as well as kicking.

Thus, we are not able to guarantee 100% indestructibility, as toys are often exposed to the incalculable mechanical stresses described above. Nonetheless, it is our aim to create toys for all age groups which will stimulate learning and development.

An important focus of education is to teach children about danger, how to behave when confronted with it and to protect them from it. Therefore, toys must regularly be inspected by caregivers and removed in time if damage has occurred.

Care and cleaning of these toys requires only a moist cloth and avoidance of the use of chemical cleaning agents.

We give age recommendations for our toys. This is, of course, subject to the individual stage of development and the interests of each child. Additionally and if necessary, warnings are issued for certain toys, indicating possible dangers in the case of incorrect use. In this way, the legislator can contribute to preventing risks. Please heed such warnings precisely and keep them and the manufacturing certificate in a safe place.

A number of our products have also been acknowledged by the Working Committee "spiel gut" ("good play") for their play value. Recognition, for example from the Association for Left-Handed Children, or design prizes, also confirm the value of our work.

Nic wooden toys are valuable toys – for all the generations to come!!!

Colourful shapes from 1,5 years

Our colored wooden Glücks-käfer-products are protected by well fixed water-based colours.

In contrast to lacquering, the grain of the wood shows through. The surface feels slightly rougher making the blocks less slippery - a plus for the child's tactile sense development.

What's more, these toys give free reign to your child's imagination. The different shapes allow unlimited creativity in all areas. A great way to spark a fascination with making "small" things "big".

A sturdy and decorative piece, not just for little would-be craft workers. Our work bench is made of solid, oiled beechwood. The quality and handling are exactly the same as for a real craftsman's work bench.

For instance, an industrial work bench collet made of metal is installed. This enables safe and convenient tightening of work pieces. The height can also be adjusted – by approx. 16 cm!

Next to the lower shelf, a recess has been milled at the top of the work plate for holding the tools.

Acting out occupations is even more fun if you have just the right outfit:

The Medical team definitely has a set of professional equipment in this case. Among other things, the stethoscope comes from medical specialist suppliers, although the sound has been carefully toned down for children's ears. In general, the extensive accessories are very realistic, making them especially attractive for trying out in play. The clever case also helps to make this "home visit" just about unique.
