(Español) La testosterona astillada es un esteroide inyectable potente, utilizado en muchos ciclos de esteroides. Farmacias Trébol S.L. Calle de la Granja, 27 - 28108 Alcobendas (Madrid) España - CIF:B84407188 HCG is normally produced in the placenta during pregnancy. When released during pregnancy it helps produce Progesterone. In doing so it helps promote capillary development and protects the fetus. Now you may ask why does it help bodybuilders? When bodybuilders are on exogenous hormones their LH levels decrease resulting in the shutdown of testes. In males, HCG helps restore and maintain testosterone production in the testes by mimicking LH and triggering the production and release of testosterone. Due to this, HCG is a perfect compound for Post Cycle Therapy. By helping re-vitalized your reproductive system and turn on your testes. By restoring your testicular function you decrease estrogen rebound and help stabilize gets levels to maintain gains made on cycle.
