Episode 334 is another PED Q&A with Mike Arnold! This one was pretty interesting because on top of covering the main topics seen in the picture above, we talked a LOT of actual pancreatic beta cell health and why I'm taking INSULIGEN everyday! This is definitely a different take on using an insulin secretagogue and should open up your eyes to the potential application of this

Even doing this at the same time is only possible to a minute extent. There are some chaps out there bragging about getting lean and hercules-like simultaneously, be sure that they use testosterone, growth hormone, anabolics or else.
