The Penguin Control Valve is made of rugged, indestructible Noryl™, which handles high flow rates without dropping household water pressures – like when showers, toilets, and faucets are all in use at the same time.

The Penguin Smart Meter measures the actual gallons used and only regenerates when needed, saving thousands of dollars in salt and wasted water.

Advanced Smart Technology
Electronics record all operations, including gallons per day, total gallons, peak flow rates, and total regenerations. Time and history are held in memory and protected by a built-in battery backup. When the system is regenerating, if the power goes out, the battery puts it back into service and does not waste water or salt.
