

THE PACIFIC RIM COLLECTION

Explore Pacific Rim

Inspired by the history and beauty of the Pacific Islands, MATERIAL's Pacific Rim Collection features ten unique designs etched into four of our most popular natural stone colors. Explore the fluid, undulating lines of Canoe, the clean, rippling pattern of Koi, or the refined, geometric design of Sun.

Each piece of 8" x 16" natural stone is hand cut and etched by our talented artisans, and with four available stone colors—Charcoal Limestone, Danby Marble, Nero Marble, and Seville Travertine—the Pacific Rim Collection offers hundreds of pattern & color combinations to suit nearly any space.

Canoe

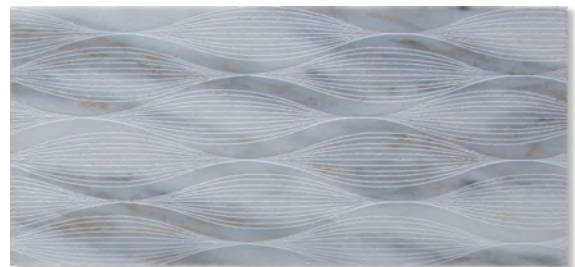

Shown in Charcoal Limestone

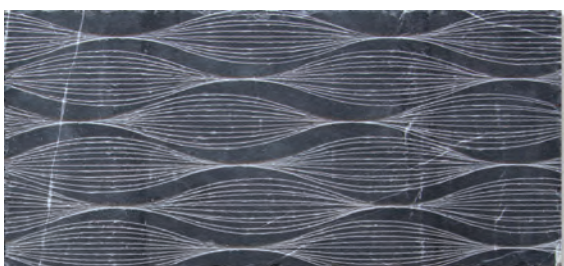

Inspired by the gentle movement of a small boat over calm water, Canoe is a serene but modern pattern. Ideal for spas and sanctuaries—but suitable in any space—Canoe brings a sense of tranquil relaxation that transforms any room.

Current

Shown in Nero Marble

Clean and captivating, Current is an extraordinary design of echoed curves. The repeating circular pattern mimics the peaceful movement of ripples extending across water's surface. This pattern's hand-carved curves create an aura of sophistication and harmony in any space.

Sun

Shown in Danby Marble

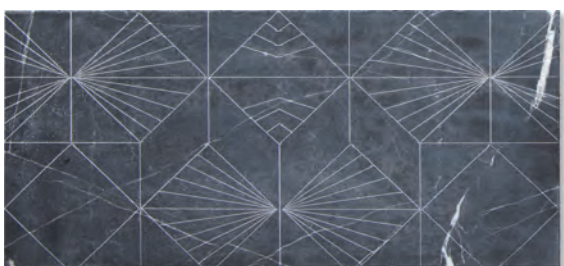

Energetic and dynamic, Sun draws influence from radiating sunrises and beams of light as they pass through water's surface. Lines converge & split at regular points to create a geometric design, while negative spaces between celebrate the organic patterns of natural stone.

Tsunami

Shown in Seville Travertine

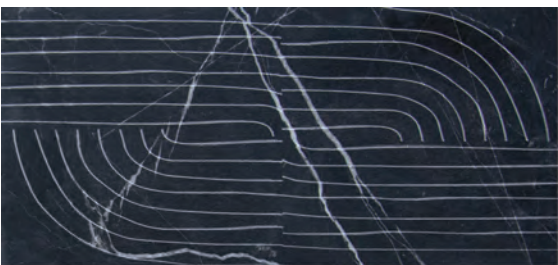

Giving representation to large waves crashing over one another, Tsunami is an uninhabited but refined pattern of freeform lines and curves. Embracing both the cyclical movement of waves and the etching process, Tsunami brings a bold, spirited energy to any project.

Wave

Shown in Danby Marble

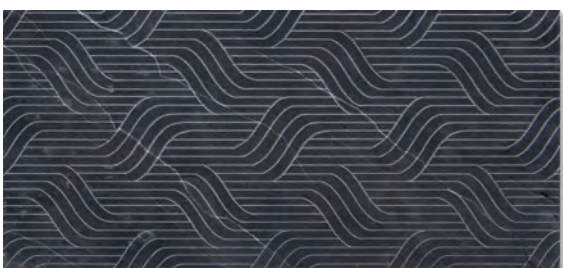

A clean, sophisticated design, Wave is inspired by the cyclical movement of waves washing over a shoreline. Most frequently used in contemporary projects—but suitable for any style—this pattern’s intricate lines create a dynamic focal point without overwhelming the space.
