The RTS Tactical Body Armor Compression Shirt is built for those who demand the perfect balance of protection, mobility, and comfort. Designed with SAPI cut dimensions, this advanced compression shirt seamlessly integrates ballistic armor panels for unmatched coverage without restricting movement. Whether on duty, in high-intensity situations, or requiring all-day covert protection, its second-skin fit moves with you for unrestricted performance.

Crafted from durable yet flexible SpeedCoreX fabric—5x stronger than leading leggings—it contours soft armor panels to your body while maintaining zero print under clothing. Moisture-wicking and odor-resistant properties keep you cool and dry, making it ideal for extended wear under duty uniforms or tactical gear.

Precision-fit ballistic panel integration ensures optimal protection, with front and back SAPI cut panels for maximum coverage and custom-cut side armor for enhanced lateral defense. Strategically placed mesh pockets accommodate our Relentless and Commander ballistic panels, delivering both HG1 and HG2 protection against handgun threats.

The RTS Tactical Body Armor Compression Shirt is more than just protection—it’s a mission-ready essential. Trusted by law enforcement, military professionals, and security personnel, this cutting-edge compression system allows you to move faster, train harder, and operate smarter—all while staying protected.
