

PAPER CUP EARPHONE

CONTENTS:

1 wire coil with exposed wire ends, 1 disc magnet, 1 audio plug & cable with exposed wire ends, 1 sheet of adhesive tape strips

INSTRUCTIONS:

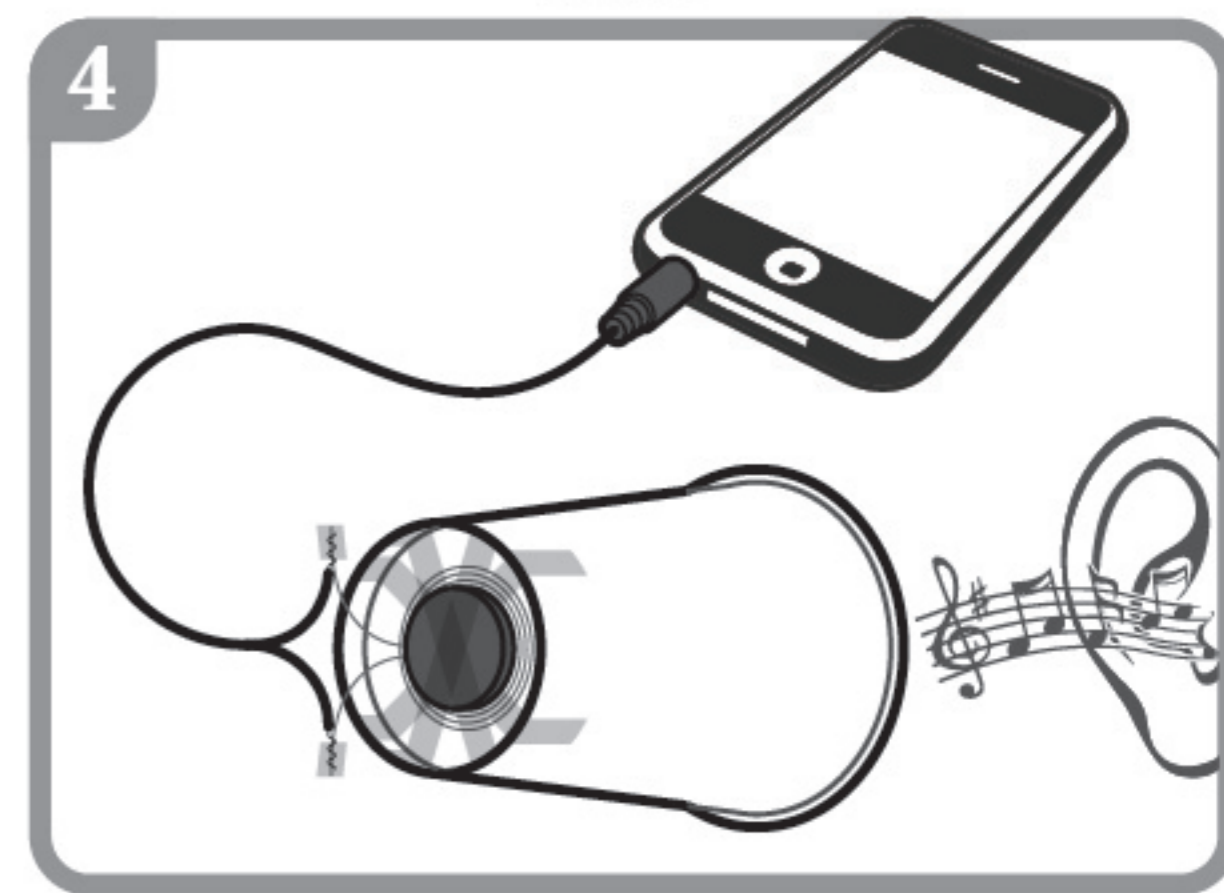

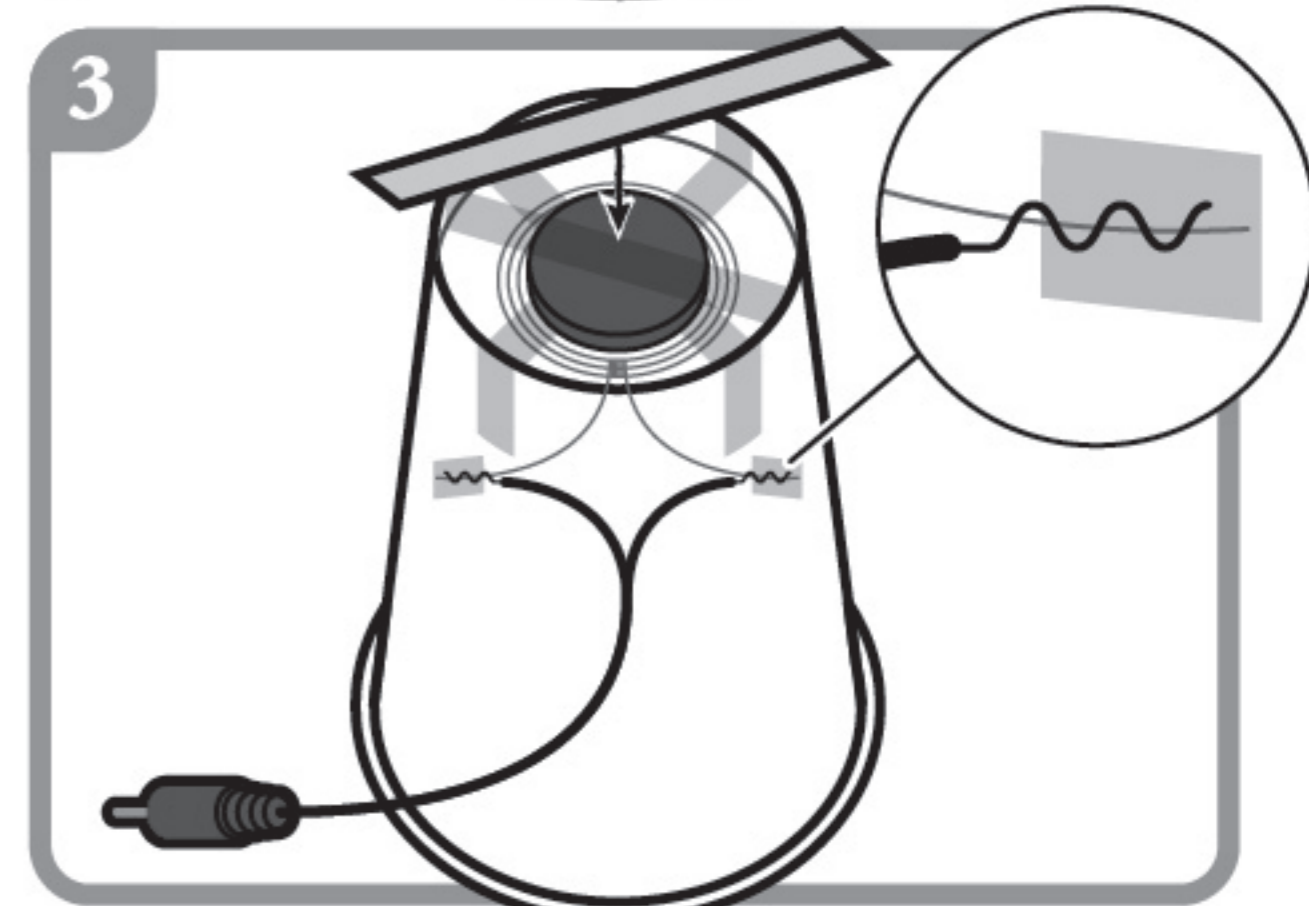

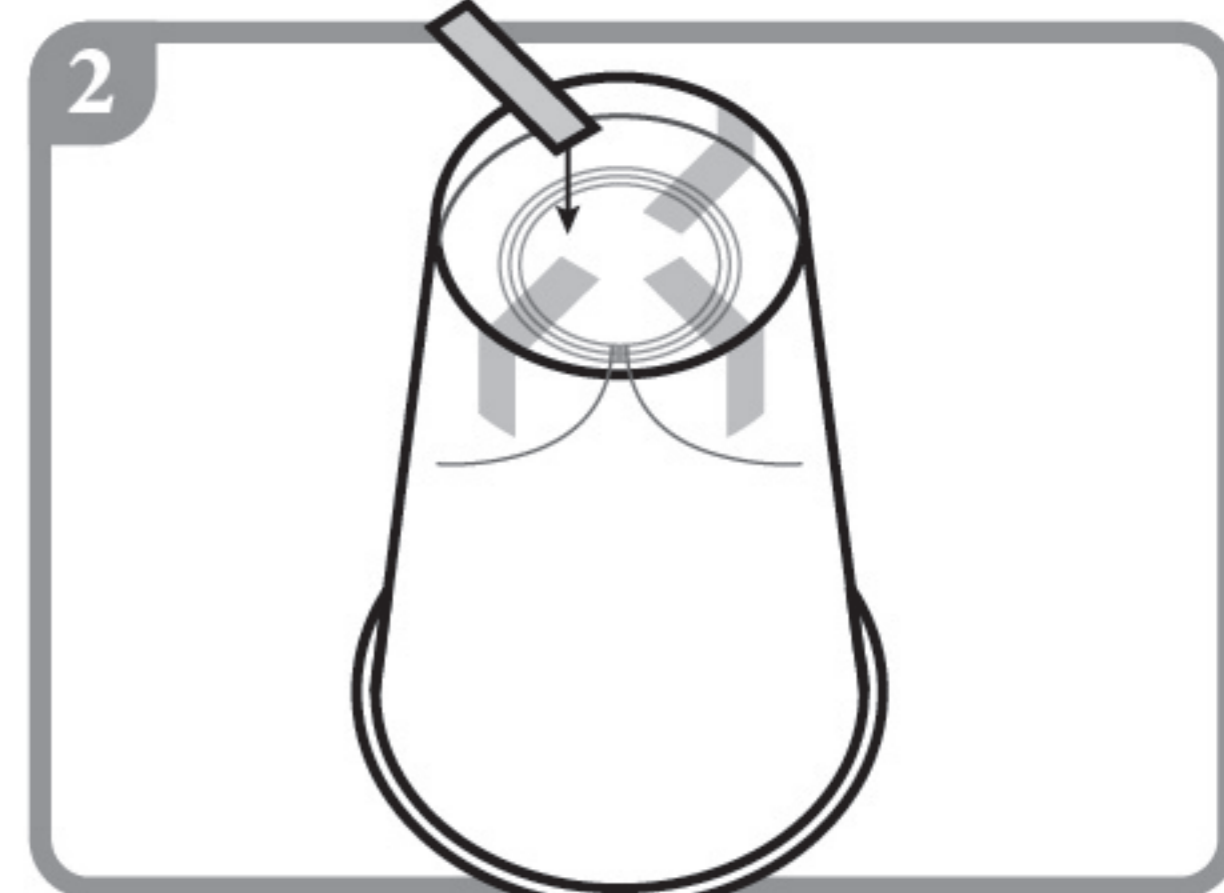

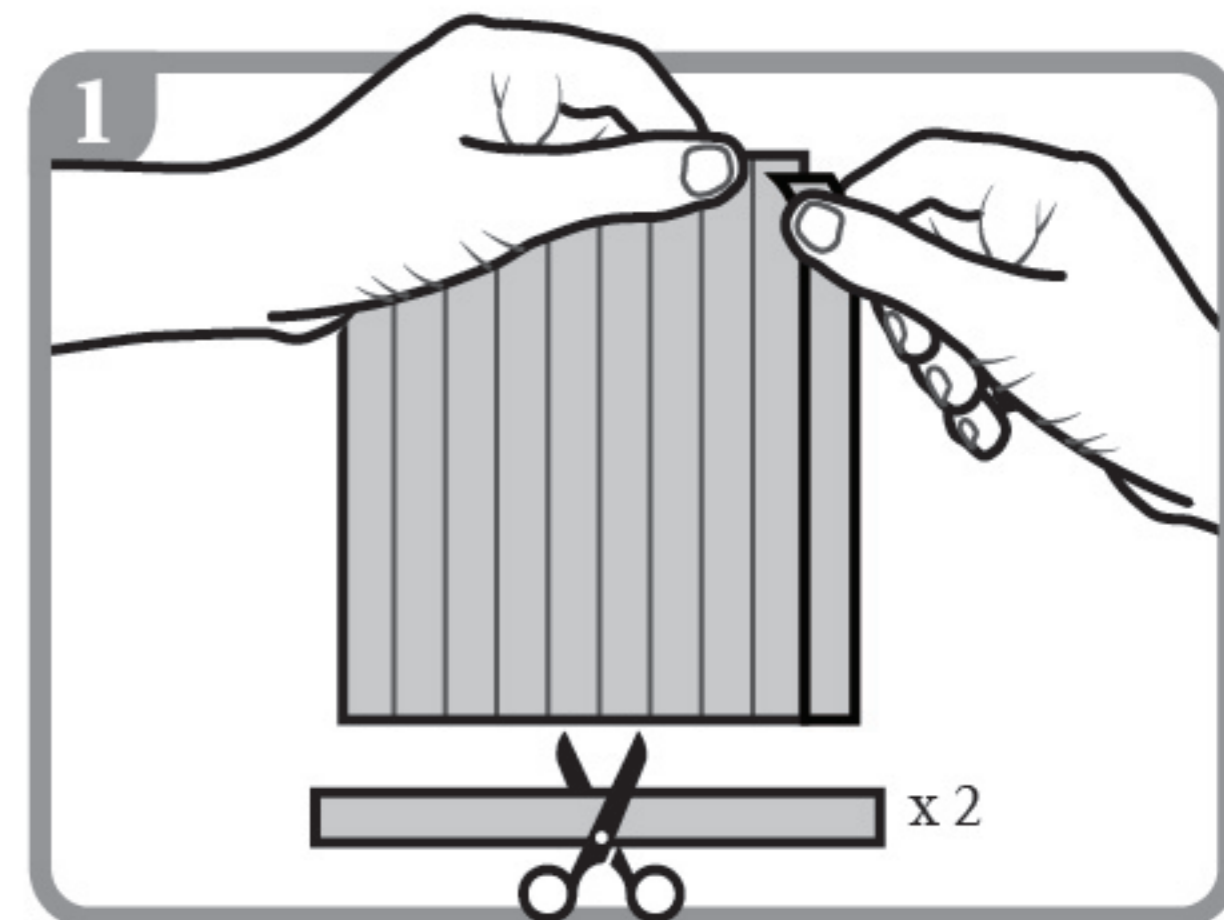

1. Gently peel off two adhesive tape strips and cut them in half to make four short pieces of adhesive tape.
2. Obtain a clean, dry paper cup (200ml/7oz). Stick the coil to the centre of the bottom of the cup with the adhesive tape as shown, without covering the two ends of the coil wire. Make sure the coil is firmly secured to the cup.
3. Place the magnet on the bottom of the cup and carefully adjust the position of the magnet to locate it inside the coil at its centre. Fix the magnet in position with 2 long strips of adhesive tape. Twist one end of the coil wire together with one of the wire ends connected to the audio plug, then repeat this step to connect the other coil wire to the other audio plug wire. Note that the coil is covered with a protective brown layer, which is non-conductive insulation. Only the silvery wire at the end of the coil should be used to connect to the audio plug. When you have twisted the wire ends together, cut two pieces of adhesive tape to 2cm long and wrap them around the two twisted wire joints to insulate them and avoid short circuit.
4. Connect the audio plug to the output of any portable music device and hold the cup close to your ear. Play the music and turn the volume up slowly until you can hear the sound.

Your paper cup earphone is completed! Enjoy your very own music choice. You can also try this experiment using a paper plate or bowl to see what happens and if it works differently.

IF YOU HAVE A PROBLEM:

If your paper cup earphone is not working, please check:

1. If the ends of the wire connected to the audio plug are twisted securely around the coil ends.
2. If the connected ends are touching each other, which may cause a 'short circuit'.
3. If the silvery wire at the end of the coil is broken. If so, use fine sandpaper (not included) to remove the protective brown layer to expose about 1.5cm of wire to reconnect to the audio plug cable.
