Size Guide Bracelets

There are three ways to find the correct size for your Tabayer bracelet: measuring a bracelet you own; measuring your wrist with a ribbon or tape measure; or using the printable bracelet sizer provided on the last page.

Measuring a bracelet you own

Measuring a flexible bracelet that fits well is a good way to determine the best size for your Tabayer bracelet. If you're buying a bracelet as a gift, this is the simplest way to choose a size that fits.

1. Lay the bracelet on a flat surface and measure its length, from the top of the clasp to the other end.
2. Match the measurement to the size chart below to find your size. If you find your measurement lies between two sizes, we recommend choosing the larger one.

Measuring your wrist

1. Using a length of ribbon or string, form a loop around the wrist on which you'll wear your Tabayer bracelet.
2. Once you have the right size, use a pen to mark the points where the ends of the loop meet.
3. Lay the ribbon or string flat against a ruler and measure the distance between the two points to the closest millimeter, adding 0.4 inches (10 millimeters) for a comfortable fit, or 0.8 inches (20 millimeters) for a looser fit.
4. Match the measurement to the size chart below to find your size. If you find your measurement lies between two sizes, we recommend choosing the larger one.

If you have a tape measure, you can skip the first two steps and use the measurement where the number meets the 0 around your wrist.

Using the printable bracelet sizer

The bracelet sizer can be printed and used to find an accurate measurement by looping it around your wrist exactly as you'd like to wear your bracelet. To ensure the printable bracelet sizer is accurate, check your printer's settings before you begin.

1. In the printing settings or print dialogue box, the page scaling should be set to none or actual size.
2. Print this page on full letter size A4 paper.
3. Once printed, use a ruler to check the measurements are accurate. The sample should measure exactly 0.8 inches (2 centimeters).
4. Cut out the bracelet sizer as marked, making a slit at the part marked "cut here" that the pointed tip will feed through.
5. With the numbers visible on the outside, insert the tip through the slit at the opposite end to form a large loop which you can fit your hand through.
6. Pull the tip until it forms a tight yet comfortable loop on your wrist.
7. The number that lines up with the slit is your wrist size, which you can use to follow the steps under "measuring your wrist". Alternatively, you can loosen the sizer slightly until you have found the measurement of how you'd like your Tabayer bracelet to fit and avoid adding to the wrist measurement to get your desired fit.
8. Match the measurement to the size chart below to find your size. If you find your measurement lies between two sizes, we recommend choosing the larger one.

If you already wear a Tabayer bracelet

Our sizing is consistent throughout the collections. If you already wear a Tabayer bracelet, you can find your size on the inside. If you would like your new bracelet to have a looser or tighter fit, simply choose the size up or down, or follow the steps above to measure your wrist or a bracelet you already own.
