Pendants and necklaces

Pendants

To visualize how the pendants and different chain lengths will sit on you, the simplest way is to follow this measuring guide.

Measuring the pendant chain length

1. Take a note of the chain length indicated in the product information of the Tabayer pendant you like.
2. On a length of ribbon or string, measure out the length from one end and mark it with a pen.
3. Place the end of the ribbon against your neck or chest, looping the other end around your neck to meet it. This will allow you to see how this length will sit on you.

Necklaces

The fit of necklaces varies by design. While the length provides an indication, the weight of each necklace is distributed depending on its design and shape, which affects how it sits on your neck. With our photography we aim to make it easy to visualize how the necklace will look on you.
