

Perfect Pumpkins For Fall

Galeux D'Eysines

95 – 100 days to maturity. Galeux D'Eysines is a unique and beautiful pumpkin. This French heirloom is pink with beige scars, or bumps, that resemble peanuts. Its shape is similar to a wheel of cheese and weighs 25 to 28 pounds. Galeux D'Eysines is also great for baking, as its orange flesh is smooth and sweet.

Tours

95 days to maturity. Tours is a gorgeous, upright, oval pumpkin. This French heirloom is dark green with pale green horizontal stripes. Its flesh is yellow and contains large seeds with wide margins. Tours has a long history of being used in France for pickling, soups, jam, and animal feed. Enjoy this tall pumpkin for a change this season.

Jarradale

100 days to maturity. Jarradale is a beautiful, blue-grey pumpkin that is flat and ribbed. This Australian variety weighs 7 to 8 pounds and is a must-have for any market grower wanting to add color to their fall decoration. Jarradale is a great keeper and will usually last over 12 months!

Casper

90 to 105 days to maturity. This white skinned, ornamental pumpkin weighs 10 to 16 pounds and is perfect for fall decorating. Named after the friendly ghost, Casper is 9 to 12 inch in diameter and contains less bluing than most white pumpkin varieties. Its thick orange flesh is delicious and excellent for making pies!

Marina de Choigga

95 to 100 days to maturity. Marina Di Chioggia is the sea pumpkin of Chioggia, a fishing village on the coast of Italy. This Italian heirloom is grey-green, with ridges and bumps, which look like waves. The fruit is turban-shaped and contains a sweet orange flesh. Marina Di Chioggia is excellent for squash gnocchi, soup, roasting, and baking.

Super Moon F1

The first white pumpkin to win an AAS regional award! This ghostly white pumpkin is blemish-free and round. The stems are tough, hardy, and disease-resistant. Grown for their size, Super Moon can get up to 50 pounds. Decorate with Super Moon this fall or try roasting the yellow flesh for a delicious treat.

Cinderella's Carriage F1

A dream come true for any princess-loving child who wants to grow their very own fairy tale type pumpkin. Cinderella's Carriage is bright reddish-orange and the first hybrid Cinderella-type pumpkin on the market. Cinderella's Carriage produces robust and vigorous vines with large fruits, ranging from 23 to 35 pounds, creating a whole group of carriages for all the princesses in your family.

American Tondo

100 days to maturity. American Tondo is a decorative heirloom pumpkin with attractive large ribs. The fruit is orange with mottled green stripes. This 8 to 10-pound beauty is a must-have in your garden. American Tondo is a vining plant that sets a large number of uniform pumpkins.
