

I created this deck with the intention that it be used as a tool for meditation and reflection. The descriptions in this booklet are simply some ideas that come to mind when thinking about these concepts, and are merely an example of how these cards can be read.

When you read a spread of these cards, sit with these images and concepts and feel into what they mean to you and how these energies play out in your life. Your intuitive reading will serve you better than just the descriptions in this booklet so pay attention to what you resonate with when working with this deck.

AFFECTION

We are social beings, we need to experience friendship, romance, desire, we need to be loved, honored and respected. This card is about receiving affection as much as it is about giving, it's about caring and nourishing. Pay attention to the areas in your life that might be lacking affection, whether that means affection you resist accepting or affection you refuse to give. Appreciate the affection that surrounds you.

BALANCE

This card is about harmony between your inner and outer world, balance between the physical, emotional, spiritual and mental aspects of your life. Perhaps something in your lifestyle needs adjustment to bring you a sense of peace and balance. Pay attention to where to you are focusing your energy and what you might be neglecting. Self awareness is one of your most important tools in building the life you want.

BEAUTY

Beauty is grace, strength and that inner pull in us to strive for what is right. What can you do to bring more elegance into your world? Are you showing others your true colors or are you impressing them with your flock? Now is not the time to strut, but to give.

CAUTION

This card indicates that perhaps you should proceed carefully with your intention. Maybe you can't quite see the full picture from where you are and you might not have anticipated an approaching bump on the road. Maybe problems will arise from the actions you are taking. It might be time to take a step back, reevaluate the situation and plan your next steps with care.

CHOICE

Maybe you're faced with a difficult decision, or maybe you're feeling stuck and out of options. The message here is simple: you always have a choice, and each choice you make can take you closer or further from your desires.

Do not trap yourself in victim mode, don't give up your power. Be honest with yourself when you are caught in repetitive patterns. Remember you have the power of choice.

CONFRONTATION

You've reached a point of conflict, opposing ideas might be clashing or a situation that's been brewing for a while is coming to the surface and it's not doing so delicately. Conflict might be inevitable, but it doesn't need to be devastating, assess and address what is going on, what lesson is this confrontation teaching you?

What is it showing you about yourself?

CUNNING

You will need to use your wit and all your skills to handle an upcoming situation. Use your intuition to stay one step ahead. Sometimes defeating a challenge means deciding whether to let go or to stand and fight. Regardless, always take the high road, even if you feel you deserve more.

CURIOSITY

When was the last time something really sparked your curiosity? The world is full of mysteries and wonder to the inquisitive mind. Try to look at the world with fresh, curious eyes.

DISGUISE

Sometimes many different masks are needed in order to fit in. In appeasing everyone else are you valuing your true self? Is there anything you are hiding from someone or yourself that you choose not to be honest with? If so, maybe it's time to reveal your truth.

DUALITY

Two sides of a coin. The yin and the yang. Things are not all as they seem. We have a duty to ourselves to acknowledge our dark and our light. The more you ignore a part of yourself, the harder it becomes to function in everyday life.

Embrace the light with the dark. After all, there can be no day without night, no stars without darkness.

ENDURANCE

The push and pull of modern world. The strength we endure comes from within. You can manage anything you need now with enough patience and agility. The Universe never gives us more than we can handle. A major lesson is on hand and you're almost at the finish line.

FAMILY

Together 'til the end. Family is the most essential gift a person can have. Is your family the center of your home? Have you reconnected with family members lately? Perhaps it's time to tend to loved ones and heal old wounds.

FLOW

When we let go of a situation that we cannot control doorways begin to open for us. When we “go with the flow” or surrender to Divine timing, solutions, dreams and opportunities begin to manifest. The creation of time is man-made, it doesn't exist, so neither should time restraints. Trust in the universal flow.

FREEDOM

Realize you are free already and you'll be free. Look pass the restrictions and limitations placed on you by the world, or more likely, placed on you by yourself. You have the freedom to explore your inner space and the world around you, the freedom to express and expand yourself. Remember you are free to make your own choices.

GRATITUDE

Maybe life doesn't look exactly how you want it to look yet. You are full of dreams and bringing them to life requires a lot of hard work. Don't let the focus on where you're going erase the experience of where you are. Remember to always be grateful. There will be problems to fix for as long as you are alive. And there will be innumerable reasons to be grateful for as long as you are alive, now is a good time to remember some of those reasons.

HAPPINESS

Things aren't always what they seem. Find joy and happiness in the little, everyday things. This card is showing you to keep a positive disposition. If things are glum, expect them to change for the better. Happiness comes in waves.

INNOCENCE

You or someone around you is feeling vulnerable and insecure. Nurture the inner child within yourself or try to understand why someone has been more dependent, emotional or even distant towards you. Do the things you love that you've tossed aside, encourage others to find themselves as well. May represent a child in your life.

INSPIRATION

Where do you get your inspiration from? Nature, culture, the guidance of others in order to soar above the crowd. Divine is guiding you to find spirituality in little things. Allow inspiration to fill you with enthusiasm. Channel it in a loving and artistic way.

INTUITION

If you've been searching and searching for answers outside of yourself and external sources seem to run dry or outside advice just doesn't quite seem to cut it, it's time to stop looking out and turn your focus inward. What does your gut tell you? Are you paying attention to what your body and your intuition are trying to tell you? Are you honoring and trusting yourself?

MEDITATION

When things around seem to be spinning out of control, remember there will always be that still place within you, make sometime to sit with yourself and find that place.

Meditation can be an incredibly useful tool to understand yourself and your world and to remind you how important it is to cultivate your inner world and to take time to just be with it all.

MOVEMENT

Energy that remains still becomes stagnant. Maybe some area of your life has been feeling a bit stagnant lately and something needs to change. The message here is the ball is on your court. You are the one that's going to have to take action to get things moving. Get into the flow of life, get that energy moving and things can start to happen.

PARTNERSHIP

You know what they say, "it takes a village", while accomplishing everything by yourself might satisfy your ego, you don't need to do everything by yourself, and sometimes accomplishing something will require a group effort. So call on your partners, whether that means your family, friends, business partner, your significant other or your classmates, you are not in this alone.

PATIENCE

In a world that focusses more and more on instant gratification, patience might look like a limited resource. Train your patience because no matter how focused the modern world becomes on instant gratification, we cannot accelerate every process and life has a way of demanding patience. Healing is one of many lifelong processes that we take on as humans and where there is a lack of patience, frustration is quick to find a home.

PERSPECTIVE

How we see things is often inspired by how the world sees us. What do you see when you look in the mirror? Have you traveled enough to embrace the world at large, different mind views and ideas? It may be time to expand your mind and consciousness.

PLAYFULNESS

There is definitely sense of humor to the universe, though it doesn't seem as funny when it feels like the joke is on you. Here is a reminder to approach life with a sense of wonder and playfulness. Nothing should be taken to seriously anyway, enjoy to weird wonderful whimsy of life. Remember that life can be light and beautiful and playful if you can keep finding ways to see it as that.

PROTECTION

If fear has been holding you back, this is a reminder that you are safe and protected. You are so much more powerful than you are lead to believe. whatever you have been trying to protect is safe, you are safe and now it's time to allow yourself to be and to keep moving forward! Let go of your fears, and allow your heart and mind to focus on other things.

REBIRTH

Everything in nature moves in cycles, all things must come to an end so that they can start anew. Might be time to shed some old layers and let go of what no longer serves you and in that process breathe new life into what does. It's a time of major transformation and growth, it's time to accept what needs to go to open space for what's to come. Embrace change, embrace the new, embrace the rhythm of the natural cycles of life.

REST

The demands of everyday life can at times be overwhelming, your goals and dreams require hard work and maybe you feel as though you don't have enough time to get the rest you've been needing. But burn out will get in your way more than taking the time you need to take care of yourself. Stress, fatigue, feeling negative are signs you might be running yourself down. Remember to take the time to check in with your body and take care of yourself.

TRANSPARENCY

This is a challenge to be honest, authentic and present. Are you being true to yourself or are you hiding who you really are? Are you being honest with the people around you? Are you being honest with yourself? In life it can be tempting to hide to protect yourself, but it's time to be honest. You are allowed to be yourself, to speak your truth, and to live your truth and right now you are being asked to do just that.

WISDOM

It is time to connect with your own deep wisdom, time for stillness and introspection, to listen to what needs to be heard.

Perhaps now you are searching for guidance. Perhaps you find yourself in similar situations over and over again. Embrace the lessons from the past.

When you take the time to listen to your own inner wisdom you can find the answers you are seeking.
