A note from our founder

Hi there! I'm Mou.

I'm the CEO and Founder of Brook37, an Atelier of tea artists and sommeliers on a mission to delight the American tea palate through the thoughtful curation of the world's rarest and most exclusive teas.

Tea tends to get a bad rap here in the United States because it's stale, passing through three to four different countries, changing hands more times than you can count and collecting dust in warehouses for months on end.

Brook37 sources our small-batch, single-origin teas from some of the finest and most coveted gardens in India and Asia; curating a world-class selection of teas that have historically been off-limits to most of the western world.

What you get is a tea that is never stale, always fresh and full of flavor.

It's tea, as it should be.

Enjoy!

Mou Dasgupta
