SECTION-A (Reading)

[20 Marks]

1. Read the following passage carefully:

- 1. Caged behind thick glass, the most famous dancer in the world can easily be missed in the National Museum, Delhi. The Dancing girl of Mohenjo-daro is that rare artefact that even school children are familiar with. Our school textbooks also communicate the wealth of our 5000 year heritage of art. You have to be alert to her existence there, amid terracotta animals to rediscover this bronze image.
- 2. Most of us have seen her only in photographs or sketches, therefore, the impact of actually holding her is magnified a million times over. One discovers that the dancing girl has no feet. She is small, a little over 10 cm tall the length of a human palm but she surprises us with the power of great art the ability to communicate across centuries.
- 3. A series of bangles of shell or ivory or thin metal clothe her left upper arm all the way down to her fingers. A necklace with three pendants bunched together and a few bangles above the elbow and wrist on the right hand display an almost modern art.
- 4. She speaks of the undaunted ever hopeful human spirit. She reminds us that it is important to visit museums in our country to experience the impact that a work of art leaves on our senses, to find among all the riches one particular vision of beauty that speaks to us alone.

1.1 On the basis of your understanding of the above passage answer the following questions:

 $1 \times 8 = 8$

- (a) The dancing girl belongs to
  - (i) Mohenjo-daro
- (ii) Greek culture
- (iii) Homosapiens (iv) Tibet
- (b) In the museum she's kept among
  - (i) dancing figures

(ii) bronze statues

(iii) terracotta animals

(iv)books

- (c) Which information is not given in the passage?
  - (i) The girl is caged behind glass.
  - (ii) She is a rare artefact.
  - (iii) School books communicate the wealth of our heritage.
  - (iv) She cannot be rediscovered as she's bronze.
- (d) 'Great Art' has power because
  - (i) it appeals to us despite the passage of time.
  - (ii) it is small and can be understood.
  - (iii) it's seen in pictures and sketches.
  - (iv) it's magnified a million times.
- (e) The jewellery she wears:
  - (i) consists of bangles of shell, ivory or thin metal.
  - (ii) is a necklace with two pendants.
  - (iii) both (i) and (ii) are correct.
  - (iv) neither (i) nor (ii) is correct.
- (f) She reminds us
  - (i) of the never say-die attitude of humans.
  - (ii) why museums in our country are exciting.
  - (iii) why she will make us come into money.
  - (iv) of dancing figures.
- (g) The synonym of the word "among" in para 1 is
- (h) The size of the dancing girl is equal to the length of human palm. (True/False)

2. Read the passage carefully:

- 1. As the family finally sets off from home after many arguments, there is a moment of lull as the car takes off. "Alright, so where are we going for dinner now?" asks the one at the driving wheel. What follows is a chaos, as multiple voices makes as many suggestions.
- 2. By the time, order is restored and a decision is arrived at, tempers have risen, feelings injured and there is at least one person grumbling.
- 3. Twenty years ago, you would step out of home, decision of meal and venue already made with no arguments or opposition and everybody looked forward to the meal with equal enthusiasm. The decision was made by the head of the family and the others fell in line. Today every member of the family has a say in every decision which also promotes a sense of togetherness and bonding.
- 4. We empower our kids to take their own decisions from a very early age. We ask them the cuisine they prefer, the movie they want to see, the holiday they wish to go on and the subjects they wish to study.
- 5. It's a closely connected world out there, where children consult and guide each other. A parent's well meaning advice can sound like nothing more than unnecessary preaching. How then do we reach our children through all the conflicting views and make the voice of reason be heard? Children today question choices and prefer to go with the flow.
- 6. What then is the best path to take? I would say the most important thing one can do is to listen. Listen to your children and their silences. Ensure that you keep some time aside for them, insist that they share their stories with you. Step into their world. It is not as complicated as it sounds; just a daily half an hour of the quality time would do the trick.

2.1 On the basis of your understanding of the above passage, answer the following questions in 30 – 40 words each:

 $2 \times 4 = 8$

- (a) Write one advantage and one disadvantage of allowing every family member to be part of the decision making process.
- (b) In today's world, what are parents asking their kids?
- (c) Which two pieces of advice does the writer give to the parents?
- (d) The passage supports the parents. How far do you agree with the author's views? Support your view with a reason?

'Need of the Hour: Rainwater Harvesting'

Every drop of water is precious. But several news reports say that the country is likely to face acute water shortage during summers. So water conservation is essential. On the occasion of 'World Water Day' we all should take an oath to store rain water in ponds, tanks and aquifers. Water should be recycled.

The water table is sinking. Residents are receiving water for half an hour in a day.

The awareness to save water should be spread. Rain water harvesting should be made mandatory. The authorities should start campaigns to save water.

Lots of water is wasted in flushing. Water in most industries is used for cooling purposes. Arrangement should be made to use recycled water instead of fresh water for these purposes.

Water is an important natural resource and is the very basis of our life. We use water for drinking, irrigation, industry, transport and for the production of hydro-electricity. Water is a cyclic resource which can be reused after cleaning. Thus it is very important to conserve water in order to sustain life on earth and rain-water harvesting is one of the best ways to store water.

4. It was Sunday morning with cool environment. A group of boys living in the neighbourhood decided to play cricket. Ram, being the best player was made the captain of one of the team. A coin was tossed to decide which team was to bat first. Ram's team won and first player was caught out. Then it was Ram's turn. He played wonderful shot. His team cheered loudly and excitedly. He shot many fours and sixes, keeping his title of the 'best player' intact. In a mood of high spirit, Ram hit the next ball, which went flying, hitting the window pane on the second floor of the building across the field. The pane broke into pieces. Ram was asked to fetch the ball. Gathering courage, he went to the house. He found the door open. He called out but no one replied. Suddenly he smelled something burning and smoke emitting. He started shouting for help. Soon the neighbours gathered and a lady who was the owner of the house, also came from downstairs, in a state of panic. Everyone helped to extinguish the fire coming from the kitchen.

Actually the lady had gone in neighbourhood, forgetting that she was cooking something, which started burning. Everyone thanked Ram for his quick action and the lady returned the ball without getting angry.

Importance of Obedience

Ahmad went to watch Diwali Mela with his parents. He wanted to enjoy a ride in the merry go-round. His father refused as there was a big crowd and a big waiting line. His father also thought that he was still too young to sit on such a big merry-go-round. His mother held his hand tigtly in fear of losing him in the crowd. When once she was busy paying for her purchase, Ahmad slipped from there. He desperately wanted to enjoy the ride. After roaming all over the fair, Ahmad realized that it was very difficult for him to either reach the merry-go-round or back to his parents. He started to panic and started to cry for help. One of his father's friend recognised him and assured him to take him back to his parents. He took him to the volunteers who made an annoucement regarding his parents. His parents came running to the place and hugged Ahmad. He promised that he would never repeat this again in his life again.

Mr. Keesing, Anne's, Maths teacher, was always annoyed with Anne because of her talkative nature. So, he had given her some extra work to write an essay on "A Chatter Box". She wrote in her essay, "Talking is a student's trait and I would do my best to control it. But I won't be able to cure this habit since my mother is also talkative.

So moving from the inherited trait cannot be done". On reading her arguments, Mr. Keesing had a good laugh, and the teacher gave her another essay on 'An Incorrigible Chatter Box'. It was a punishment for Anne for talking in the class. Anne gave a message through the poem to the teacher. The teacher got so impressed by her little poem that he decided not to punish her. She made him realize his mistake. It also reflects her fearlessness, critical thinking, humility and unbiased approach as well as her creativity and humorous approach to deal with her strict teacher.

Martians planned to attack the earth. The ruler of Mars, Think Tank, instructed one of his Martians-Noodle to gather information about the Earth. He saw that other three crew members—Captain Omega, Lieutenant Iota and Sergeant Oop found some books in Centerville Public Library. A book named 'Mother Goose' contained nursery rhymes. Omega managed to read some nursery rhymes like 'Mistress Mary', 'Humpty-Dumpty', etc. Think Tank misinterpreted the rhymes. He was shocked to discover that metals could be grown in fields. He also thought that earthlings are intelligent enough in warfare and have advanced technology to grow high exposures. On seeing the image of Humtpy-Dumpty, he thought its head resembling that of his own. He feared invasion on Mars by earthlings. So he decided to migrate to Alpha Centauri, one hundred million miles away from Mars. The Martians fear the book till date. Hence, we can say that the title 'The Book that Saved the Earth' is apt.

The book of the Nursery Rhymes proved to be a most trustworthy friend. It not only saved us and our planet earth, but also acted as a good friend of tiny children and entertained them in its fantasy and delighted them.

Importance of Yoga in Our Life

Yoga is a way of living that aims towards a healthy mind in a healthy body. Man is a physical, mental and spiritual being and yoga helps promote a balanced development of all the three. Other forms of physical exercises like aerobics, jumba etc. assure only physical well being.

Yoga promotes self-healing, enhances personal power, helps in developing focus and concentration especially important for children. It provides peace to mind and enhances cosmic energy. Yoga helps in managing stress and anxiety and keeps you relaxed. It also helps in increasing flexibility, muscle strength and body tone. It improves respiration, energy and vitality.

There are various Yoga 'asanas' meant for healing different parts and organs of our body. Regular practice of yoga keeps our digestive system in control, thus helping us to lose unnecessary fat in our body. Yoga brings glow on our skin.

Thus Yoga improves immunity and helps us to maintain healthier lifestyle and it is becoming a very important part of our life.

In the first decade of the 20th century, the white-skinned erected a system of racial discrimination against the dark-skinned people of South Africa. This discrimination was called Apartheid, the harshest in human creation. Nelson Mandela, when became a young man and joined the African National Congress party, he first wanted freedom only for himself and then for all his people. He carried on years of struggle with the desire to give himself and his people a life of dignity and self-respect. Finally when he successfully became the President of South Africa he promised to give his country freedom from poverty and discrimination. No country man would be oppressed on the basis of colour and creed. He wished the sun of freedom to shine on his country forever.

Gautam Buddha was a prince. His parents had named him Siddhartha. He had been shielded from the sufferings of the world. At the age of twenty five he saw a sick man, an aged man and a dead man. He also saw an ascetic begging for alms. These sights moved him so much that he at once went out into the world to seek enlightenment concerning the sorrows he had witnessed. He wandered for seven years and finally sat down under a peepal tree, where he received enlightenment after seven days. He renamed the tree as the Bodhi Tree (Tree of Wisdom). He himself came to be known as the Buddha (The awakened or the Enlightened).

The Buddha preached his first sermon at the city of Benares, the most holy dipping places on the River Ganges. The Sermon was preserved. It reflects the Buddha's wisdom about once inscrutable kind of suffering.

Subject: Concern over growing accidents of Road Rage in Delhi

Sir.

Through the columns of your esteemed newspaper, I would like to draw the attention of the readers towards the serious issue of growing incidents of road rage in Delhi. Now and then, we come across the news of road rage where people start fighting on the roads on trivial issue. People are over stressed these days and their frustration is often displayed through such incidents. They start quarrelling on a matter of small collision or honking or even on the issue of parking. Generally, the fight starts verbally which turns into a physical fight. Many incidents of serious injuries and death of people have been reported so far and hence it needs immediate attention of everyone.

The government should come forward with strict legal provisions to stop these and the people should also learn to be patient and tolerant in order to make Delhi roads safe to travel.

Thanking you

Yours truly Akshay

'Use Public Conveyance - Control Pollution'

Public transportation is not only a great way to get to work, to school, or to go shopping, but it is also an environmentally friendly mode of getting around.

Since public transit carries many passengers on a single vehicle, it can reduce the number of vehicles, the level of traffic noise, the amount of harmful gas emissions, associated with those vehicles. By reducing the emissions from transportation in urban areas, public transportation can help to reduce smog, to meet air quality standards, and to decrease the health risks of the residents due to polluted air.

By taking up less space, buses and other public transit options can also enable more efficient traffic flow, which in turn helps to reduce fuel waste. Thus using public conveyance can surely control pollution.

The poem 'The Trees' states that in the conflict between man and nature, man has caused much harm to nature. Man has learnt to acquire a lot of material goods, but forgotten the importance of preserving nature. As a result, large forests have been cut down, animals have been killed and water bodies have been destroyed. Man has judged nature wrongly to be weak, whereas nature is the most powerful. Any natural disaster can not be prevented, though we are moving in a technologically advanced world. The destructive forms of nature e.g. flood, earthquake, volcanoes, tornadoes etc. teach man that the real power lies with nature and it can do anything. The poet wants to give the message that the presence of a few trees inside our homes does not become equal to nature, but a very false idea of nature. Real nature is outside, in the forests that we have destroyed. The poem tells us how the trees want to break free from the walls that humans have put around them, and go out in the forest. We shall stop cutting trees, otherwise we will be responsible for the deleterious consequences.

11. Mrs. Pumphrey was a rich lady who had a small dog, named Tricki. She had pampered the dog by providing him things like a raincoat for wet days, a whole wardrobe, full of tweed coats. There were separate bowls like breakfast bowl, lunch bowl, supper bowl etc. or his different meals. She had a lot of servants and maids to take care of him and to serve Tricki's favourite cushions, toys and rubber rings. Besides, she owned a chauffeur driven long, black car. All these things suggest that she was a rich lady. She used to give Tricki some extras between meals to build him up. Some malt, cod-liver-oil and a bowl of Horlicks are the things which only the rich can afford to feed their dogs. She also fed him with cream cakes and chocolates which he loved very much.

Importance of Exercise and Nutritions Food

It is sad but true that the school students are the worst victims of malnutrition. The reason behind it is not poverty but their growing fondness for junk and fried food. Most students prefer pizzas and burgers over fruits and green vegetables. Such items have always been a more tempting option to the home cooked meal of rice, chapatis and vegetables. The opening of fast food corners has made it convenient to grab a burger than to carry a tiffin. But there is a huge price to be paid for this convenience.

Junk food is high in calories and extremely low in nutrients. It is a major cause of serious problems like obesity and malnourishment due to the lack of essential nutrients in the diet.

Fortunately, the solution of this problem is simple—give the children a better option of nutritious and hygienic home cooked food, made interesting through innovations. School authorities should also take immediate steps to replace fast food items with health promoting items such as milk, eggs, bread sandwich, fruit chaat etc. Students should be taught that health is wealth. If they remain healthy, only then they can concentrate on studies. Junk food will bring nothing but ill health, obesity and unhappy life.

Research from the American Journal of Preventative Medicine indicates that regular exercise adds up to five years to our life and walking is the best exercise. Students can keep themselves physically fit and their mind alert by going to school on foot. On one hand, it will prevent obesity and on the other hand, it will make the environment pollution free. A number of studies have found that exercise and walking helps to rule out depression. No diet or tonic is as effective as morning walk. Fresh morning air refreshes us and relaxes the body and mind. To conclude, with these simple measures we can make our life happy and joyful.

4. A Face in the Forest

Last year in the month of December, I went to my native village where my grandparents live in a cottage on the foothills of the Himalayas. One day, I was standing on the edge of a dense forest. Suddenly, I heard someone sobbing. The sobs were loud enough to pull my attention. I tried to ignore the same as I was just a visitor in the village, but suddenly the sobs grew louder.

Hesitatingly, I went in the direction of the sobs and found a girl sitting on a sack and sobbing hysterically. She had long open hair, wearing beautiful brown dress. He was bent on her arms wrapped around her knees. I thought she needed help, so I asked, "Hey, are you okay? Why are you sobbing?"

She did not reply. I got a little closer, though sensing something wrong. I called out to her aloud, "Listen, look up to me, show me your face."

The girl looked up and showed her face, if you could call it a face! Her face had no eyes, no nose, no mouth. Just a round shape of empty face with long hair.

I shrieked, turned around and ran as fast as I could. I reached my house stumbling and staggering. Suddenly I felt my face wet. I touched it, but it had no mouth, no nose. And the same instance I opened my eyes and found my grandma leaning on my bed calling my name. I then realised I had been dreaming, a nightmare though!

An Amazing Day

It was an amazing day, full of fun and frolic. We all stood aghast to see a strange flying object our heads. We started guessing ........ what it was. Sam said, "It is a UFO. See it has no wings or fans like a Chopper." Actually he was right. We all stopped the game and looked towards the strange object. Suddenly Christy shouted, "Oh no! It is landing in our garden. Let's run to my house." At once, all six of us ran towards Christy's house. By the time we reached the gate of his house, the UFO had already landed in his garden and we saw a small door-slide open. We all had held our breath and were waiting for someone to come out. But no one appeared. After some time, a strange fluorescent coloured object was thrown out of it and before we could understand anything the UFO flew up in the sky. We saw that object gradually growing in size. And to our surprise it was consuming the grass and the plants that came in its way. It had grown to the size of a ant. It looked like a worm. Suddenly Christy shouted, "Let's enter the house from the back door. We all ran there. Going in we peeped out to see that object. To our horror it had grown up to a size of an Alsatian dog and had eaten up the stairs in the porch. We were terrified. Suddenly an idea struck my mind. I asked Christy, "Where is your kitchen?" He could only point his finger towards the kitchen. I ran into the kitchen and took the salt container with me. Christy understood what I was upto. He too followed me with two new packets of salt. We ran out towards the garden and poured the salt on the strange object which had by now grown to a size of a calf. It gave a strange shrill cry as soon as it came in contact with the salt and within a few seconds it had disappeared as if dissolved in soil. We all looked at each other. We knew that we had a new thrilling story to tell our classmates the next day.

Someone directed her to Sakyamuni, the Buddha, who asked her to bring a handful of mustard seeds. This raised a hope in Gotami's heart that her son could be revived. But the condition imposed by Sakyamuni was that the seeds should be from a house where people had not lost a loved one to death. Kisa Gotami's futile search made her realize the bitter truth that sorrows are a part and parcel of life and one can attain peace only by acceptance.

Buddha says that everything in this world is subject to death. He further says that the world is deeply affected by suffering, disease or pain. Inevitably there is death and decay, therefore the wise do not grieve, knowing the terms of the world. Neither from weeping nor from grieving can anyone obtain peace of mind.

The poet Walt Whitman in his poem 'Animals' compares animals to human beings and differentiates between them on the basis of their characteristics. According to the poet's perception, animals are ranked much higher than humans. Animals do not complain about their situation and are much happier than humans. Animals live in natural surroundings and they accept nature. Human beings on the other hand, do not accept nature i.e., they complain about it and try to change it, thereby leading an unhappy life. According to the poet, animals possess many qualities which humans don't. Some of these are calmness, lack of greed and the ability to stay happy and contented among others. Animals never weep for their sins, they never sweat and whine about their condition. They do not make anybody sick discussing their duty to God. Above all, human beings suffer from the mania of possessing things which animals do not. These are the qualities of animals which the poet feels he as a human has lost and wishes to regain.

11. Oliver Lutkins was about forty years of age, he was red-faced, cheerful and thick about the middle. Oliver Lutkins (Hack Driver) comes across as a clever person who has little consideration for others and exploits their gullibility to his convenience. He cheats the lawyer on the pretext of helping him in locating Lutkins and thereby extracts money from him in an unfair manner.

The fact that he laughs at him the following day, when the lawyer delivers him the summon, shows that he lacks scruples and it is remorseless. He seems to have little respect for law as he has disobeyed the earlier summons. But the narrator also depicts him as a person with a sense of humour that almost forgives his tricks as a practical joke.

Bishamber Nath was a well-to-do grocer from the neighbouring village where Bholi lived. He was a lame, fiftyyear old widower with grown-up children. Bholi's parents accepted his marriage proposal as he had a big shop, house and good bank balance. Even Bholi agreed to marry an unsuitable elderly person because she was aware that her parents were worried that she would remain unmarried all her life due to her pock-marked face and lack of sense. That's why she did not want to disappoint them and allowed them to decide for her.

The day of her marriage came, and Bishamber arrived with a big baraat. He was pleased with the arrangements but when Bholi's silken veil was removed, he was shocked to see her pock-marked face.

He refused to garland her, and said that the marriage would go through only if an additional five thousand rupees were given to him. Ramlal brought the money. When Bishamber was about to garland her, Bholi flung the garland into the fire. She very clearly told her father that she would not marry that man, who was not just only old and lame but also a mean and greedy person. She took a vow never to get married. She decided that she would become a teacher and serve her parents in their old age.

Subject: Need to improve miserable living conditions in slums

Sir,

Through the columns of your reported newspaper, I would like to draw the kind attention of the concerned authorities towards the miserable living conditions in slums.

A country's growth depends on the growth of its people. The people living in slums do not have basic amenities like clean drinking water, proper power supply and healthy food. Many can be seen ravaging through dustbins to get food. Lack of proper sanitation and living among such dreadful conditions lead to spread of many diseases. They are illiterate and thus lack job opportunities. They live in congested spaces where proper breathing is also unavailable.

Only if the slum dwellers get the basic amenities, the nation can be said to have truely progressed.

Thanking you

Yours sincerely

Road Safety

Everyday, the newspaper is full of cases which report accidents of high severity and intensity. When the cases are probed, normally what is found is that the accident could have been averted if the people involved had followed traffic rules

The need of the hour is that people should be made aware of and encouraged to abide by traffic rules, like wearing helmets and putting on seat belts. Another important thing is that, people should be encouraged to stay within the speed limits. Along with this, if the traffic police becomes vigilant and strict and installs speed sensing devices and cameras, a lot of lives could be save and can be saved. Driving in the wrong direction, drunk driving and use of cell phones or other electronic equipment during the drive have added to the frequency of accidents. Thus, road safety measures should be used as weapons that can save us from the danger of casualties.

10. The story 'Black Aeroplane' is about a pilot who feels happy and contended to fly over a city during night time. He is flying from Paris to London. He is looking forward to enjoy his holiday with his family. As soon as he crosses Paris he gets a look of dark clouds indicating an upcoming storm. But still his desire to reach his family and have a scrumptuous breakfast with them, made him risk his and his passengers life.

Then the pilot thought of informing the Paris Control Personnel about its presence and for instructions. After receiving the instructions, the pilot geared up and followed them while putting the last fuel tank into operation. He was calm as everything was going as planned. So he says that 'Everything' was going well, it was an easy flight.

Valli made detailed plans about her bus ride. She gathered information about the distance the bus travelled, the time it took and the fare by listening to the conversations of others and asking discreet questions. She planned the timings, i.e., when she would board the bus and when she would return. She saved money for the trip by not buying peppermints and sweets and also by not going to the fair.

Two characteristics which made Valli to fulfil her dream of a bus ride was her courage and her ability to plan. These are the traits which need to be consciously developed so that a person can undertake what he wants to do. Courage to do something by taking risk and ability to plan will make a person go ahead in life.

Noodle & Think Tank have contrasting characters. Tink-Tank likes to be called the 'Great and the Mighty'. He likes to order. He is the ruler of Mars, but has no intelligence.

He thinks books to be sandwiches. He is wrong about everything. He demands that the crew obey him. He likes to pass on other's idea as his own. He is a coward who simply boasts about his power.

Whereas the apprentice of Think-Tank, Noodle, comes out as an interesting figure in the story. He is very polite and smart. He corrects the mistakes of his ruler very humbly by giving indirect suggestions. Also, he is very wise and well informed. He never takes credit for his ideas. Think-Tank makes them as his own.

Subject: Complain against Water Leakage

Sir.

I, on behalf of all the members of this colony, am writing this letter to you to complain about the current issue of water leakage from the taps and supply joints in our colony.

We have been facing this issue for last one or two weeks. The water is not getting supplied due to old and out dated disposal system of the colony. Summers are approaching and there is always a shortage of water and if so much water is wasted everyday, it will create a big problem for the residents of the colony.

We shall be exceedingly thankful if the required repair and maintenance work in our colony is carried out at the earliest.

Thanking You

Yours truly

Importance of Outdoor Games

The games that we play in the open air are called outdoor games. These games give us a chance to exercise our body and recreate our mind. They are very well a part of the education system because proper exercise is required in order to study properly.

Nowadays children prefer staying indoors watching television, playing video games, browsing the net, making tik-tok videos, which is not only harmful for eyes but also stresses their mind. Many people are becoming obese due to such habits.

It is high time that both parents and educational institutions take initiatives to inculcate the habit of playing outdoor games. Such initiatives will also help in discovering talented sport persons, who can be trained for National and International competitions. Playing outdoors with other children, not only provides fresh air and energy but also teaches children teamwork, co-operation and sportsmanship. These qualities help them to build their character.

Outdoor games help in socialising with real people away from the virtual social life of facebook and whatsapp. They refresh our minds which in turn increase our productivity and helps to kill the boredom. Thus outdoor games lead to a healthy lifestyle.

10. The author recalls that a baker used to visit his village twice a day. He was an important person in his life. He was treated like a friend. He came once in the morning to sell the bread and then while returning after emptying his basket.

The children would know about his arrival from the 'Jhang, jhang' sound of his bamboo stick. They would run to meet and greet him. They tried to surround the basket but were pushed aside until the bread was delivered to the maid. Then, they were allowed to choose their bread. The baker attracted the children not by his jingle or by the loaves of bread. He sold out the bread bangles or the special sweet bread made for the children.

The boy is very much troubled at the loss of his ball and plunges into grief. He stands stiff and trembling while staring at his ball. He is upset as he looks gloomily into the water because it has been with him for a long time. When the ball bounces into the water, all his memories of the childhood days flashes in front of him, the poet doesn't offer him money to buy another ball.

The poet suggests that from the loss of the ball, the boy is learning how to stand up in a world of possessions. The boy is learning what it means to lose something. The poet says that knowing that every man has to stand up after such losses, the boy too will learn how to stand up and leave the losses behind. The loss of the ball will make him learn that things are often lost and losses have to be accepted.

11. For some people, deception is a way to lead life easily, i.e., by changing name, by making excuses, by making new way of making money etc. Anil was the most trusting person Hari Singh had ever met. But he took undue advantage of his trust. He was a thief and couldn't be expected to be honest with Anil. He came to Anil with a false identity. Anil had a blind faith in human nature. He employed him just out of sympathy and compassion for him. He trusted him and ignored his misdeed. He handed over all the financial transactions without any verification. In a way, he gave him a chance to improve. Hari stole money and then came back with a change on mind. Anil knew even this fact also, but said nothing. It made Hari Singh to decide to leave the style of deception as a way of life. Living a simple and straight life over-powered Hari's deceptive life. Finally, he opted for the simple life by educating himself and becoming a clever, big and respectable man in future. It was very good decision of Hari Singh.

On reaching New Mullion, he found that a delivery man was ready to help him to find Lutkins on a charge of two dollars an hour. The hack driver also told him that Lutkin's mother was a real terror. He described her as a large and hefty lady with a fierce temper. He also said that she was as quick as a cat. She was nine feet tall and four feet thick. He said that she could talk a lot.
