The story of Ida Maria Grassi wind instruments traces back to 1945 post-war Italy, where the brand's journey began in a humble garage on Via Dezza in Milan. It was here that Ida Maria Grassi, a groundbreaking female instrument maker with a dream, started crafting flutes and piccolos characterized by a distinguished Italian style. In a remarkable development, these instruments swiftly captured the attention of musicians, propelling Ida Maria Grassi to establish a factory in Cinisello Balsamo.

Ida Maria Grassi's passions then expanded to the realm of saxophones. In the late 1950s, during a period of great economic challenges, numerous skilled craftsmen from a struggling saxophone factory sought employment with Ida Maria. Grassi seized an opportunity to expand her vision, prompting the establishment of a second Grassi factory in Piedmont, Italy, which not only realized her entrepreneurial ambition but also provided economic stability to the musical craftsmen in the region.

Despite the many challenges of her growing start-up, including the pervasive gender-biases of the time, Ida Maria Grassi persevered. Through dedication, hard work, and leadership her brand gained international renown, becoming a symbol of quality wind instruments crafted in Italy. As Ida Maria Grassi once remarked, "I was able to craft quality wind instruments with an Italian mark, in Italy and abroad, and I believe I can be proud of that."

The legacy of Ida Maria Grassi lives on as part of the Proel family of Italian brands, through a commitment to continuous innovation and global distribution.

LONG TRADITION OF CRAFTSMANSHIP

The production of the "Ida Maria Grassi" wind instruments upholds the ancient artisan tradition that is defined by skill, passion, and experience.

RIGOROUS TECHNICAL CONCEPTS

In order to maintain a consistent and superior level of precision, traditional craftsmanship is complemented by state-of-the-art technologies in metal, wood, and ABS processing. Thus, in each "Ida Maria Grassi" instrument, one can discern the blend of meticulous industrial techniques alongside the expert touch of our specialists.

GREAT CARE

All "Ida Maria Grassi" instruments are tested individually before being sent to customers and can only be packaged once they exceed rigorous technical and musical standards.

The School Series is designed for musicians beginning their study of wind instruments. They are ergonomic and light, making them particularly suitable for young players.

Each instrument boasts precise intonation, ease of use, superb craftsmanship, and excellent value in terms of quality and affordability.

The Academy Series of professional level saxophones offers the musician an instrument with extraordinary qualities in terms of sound, flexibility, construction, and ease of performance. The historic Italian brand “Ida Maria Grassi” saxophones are designed for exceptional timbre, precise intonation, and increased projection.

The Grassi process perfectly blends old-world craftsmanship with new-world techniques. Skilled artisans working with modern CNC machines achieve instruments with balance, precision, and reliable mechanics.

Grassi’s Research & Development team oversees every stage of the production process including the testing and selection of the highest quality brass, copper, wood, and other materials.

Modern mechanics and blue-steel springs facilitate optimal key response and comfortable ergonomics.

Pisoni pads (100% made in Italy) with metallic resonators ensure perfect, long-lasting key closure, as well as rich tone and timbre.

The junction between the stem and the 3-point bell ensures perfect vibrational transmission throughout the entire instrument.

The whole series has the adjustable thumb-rest to allow maximum comfort for the performer.

The standard and artisanal finishes and the materials that form the body ensure that everyone can find the most suitable instrument for all genres including classical, blues, and jazz. The instruments are further embellished with handmade engravings by skilled craftsmen.

All Grassi instrument cases are designed for maximum protection of the instrument as well as convenience for traveling, performing, teaching, and carrying accessories.

ACADEMY SERIES

ACADEMY SERIES – GOLD LACQUERED SAXOPHONES

The “Gold Lacquered” collection has a particularly dark sound that adapts well to any musical style. The extraordinarily expressive and dynamic qualities combined with the precise intonation make these instruments ideal for soloists.

The lacquering is resistant and guarantees a long lasting performance against condensation and sweat.
