GENETIC TATTOO is an orally administrated Growth Hormone Secretagogue originally developed by Reverse Pharmacology. A secretagogue is the term for a substance that chemically signals the pituitary gland to secrete growth hormone. GENETIC TATTOO can be compared to GH peptides like GHRP-6 and Ipamorelin, except it doesn't require any injections nor does it have any side effects like GHRP-6. This extremely powerful GHS (Growth Hormone Secretagogue) was developed with the intention to combat such conditions as muscle wasting, obesity and osteoporosis. After ingestion, Growth Hormone (GH) levels were shown to increase at doses starting at 5 milligrams (mgs) a day.
