Question: I let charge for 3 hrs. The light stayed red even though it was fully charged.

Answer:

The display will show 100% capacity when the battery voltage between 50V to 54.6V. So the display show 100% capacity doesn't mean the battery is fully charged. You should charge the battery until the red light on the charger turns green. The green light means the battery is fully charged.