KAIA is timeless elegance and purity wrought in geometric perfection and rigorous design.

All of our structural materials are sourced in Europe.

Our metalwork is handcrafted in Germany, using Brass and Steel which has either been hand plated or left to develop its natural patina.

Our marble is sourced and crafted in the North of Italy and our hand blown glass objects come from the traditional glass workshops of Bohemia.

The paper used in our Sophie Dries collaborations is produced in Puglia using a papier-mâché process to create a raw, stone-like structure.

After a thorough internal quality control process, all parts are assembled in our atelier in Germany. Our commitment to support small traditional craftsmanship helps to ensure their longevity and produce beautiful timeless objects.

Sustainability is at the core of our values. In an industry that is saturated in mass-production we strive to use natural and reusable materials, create made-to-order, timeless products and use techniques that champion artisanal tradition.
