YOU MAY NOT KNOW THIS...

Along with metabolic changes, pregnant women have a significant decrease in the skin surface lipid.

The decrease in skin lipid not only causes dry skin it also results in a weakened skin barrier that can increase risk of infection and dermatitis which are not desired during pregnancy

Many natural products have ingredients that their safety have not been studied for the fetus.

Many strong moisturizers are only formulated for dry skin.

BUT WE'RE HERE TO HELP

We made an appropriate combination of natural oils and butters to lock hydration with a velvety but not oily feeling.

High lipid content and oil-soluble active ingredients were added to the formula to ensure skin delivery.

It also has Ginger-Lily Extract that acts as a shield on skin surface against environmental pollution and blue light.

We calculated the amount of emollients, humectants, and occlusive to ensure long lasting hydration for every type of skin care.

We are always using pregnancy-safe ingredients.

Dr. Lily Ros, is a visionary registered pharmacist who has crafted an exceptional line of all-natural, plant-based skin and body care, and makeup products under her namesake brand, Dr. Lily Ros Organics. Combining her extensive pharmacology experience with a passion for cosmetics, Dr. Ros works diligently in her very own laboratory, formulating and compounding her line of products, which are truly 'bench to body' skin care.

With a sharp understanding of health and beauty products, Dr. Ros is well aware that claims of "botanical" or "all-natural" do not necessarily translate to safer products.

She understands that using the wrong ingredients in the wrong ratios can cause irritation and damage to the skin. During her pregnancy, Dr. Ros became more mindful of what she applied to her skin, leading her to embark on a mission to create a range of daily use products that were both effective and luxurious. By using only 100% organic botanicals, Dr. Ros has crafted a line of products that not only feel great on the skin, but are also healthy and safe.

Her philosophy is guided by Five Key Principles.

- ① Clinically supported ingredients
- ② Optimal extraction method for maximum efficacy
- ③ High oil/lipid content and oil soluble actives to maximize absorption.
- ④ Ingredients sourced from the most optimal environment
- ⑤ Formulated using only sustainable ingredients
