This past week I started my 2nd year of my PA program and finished off the week with my first suturing and knot-typing lab. It was quite the week and challenging to get back in the school routine, let alone a much more rigorous schedule ? but I'm hanging in there! I really enjoyed the suturing lab, and know that I have lots of improvements to make but am looking forward to making improvements with this skill over time! Tomorrow starts a new week, let's get after it!?? navigate to this website
