WARDY

— Family Owned & Run —

A New Beginning

Domaine Wardy turned 21 in 2018. Officially she's an adult, and with adulthood comes self-awareness as well as new challenges and responsibilities.

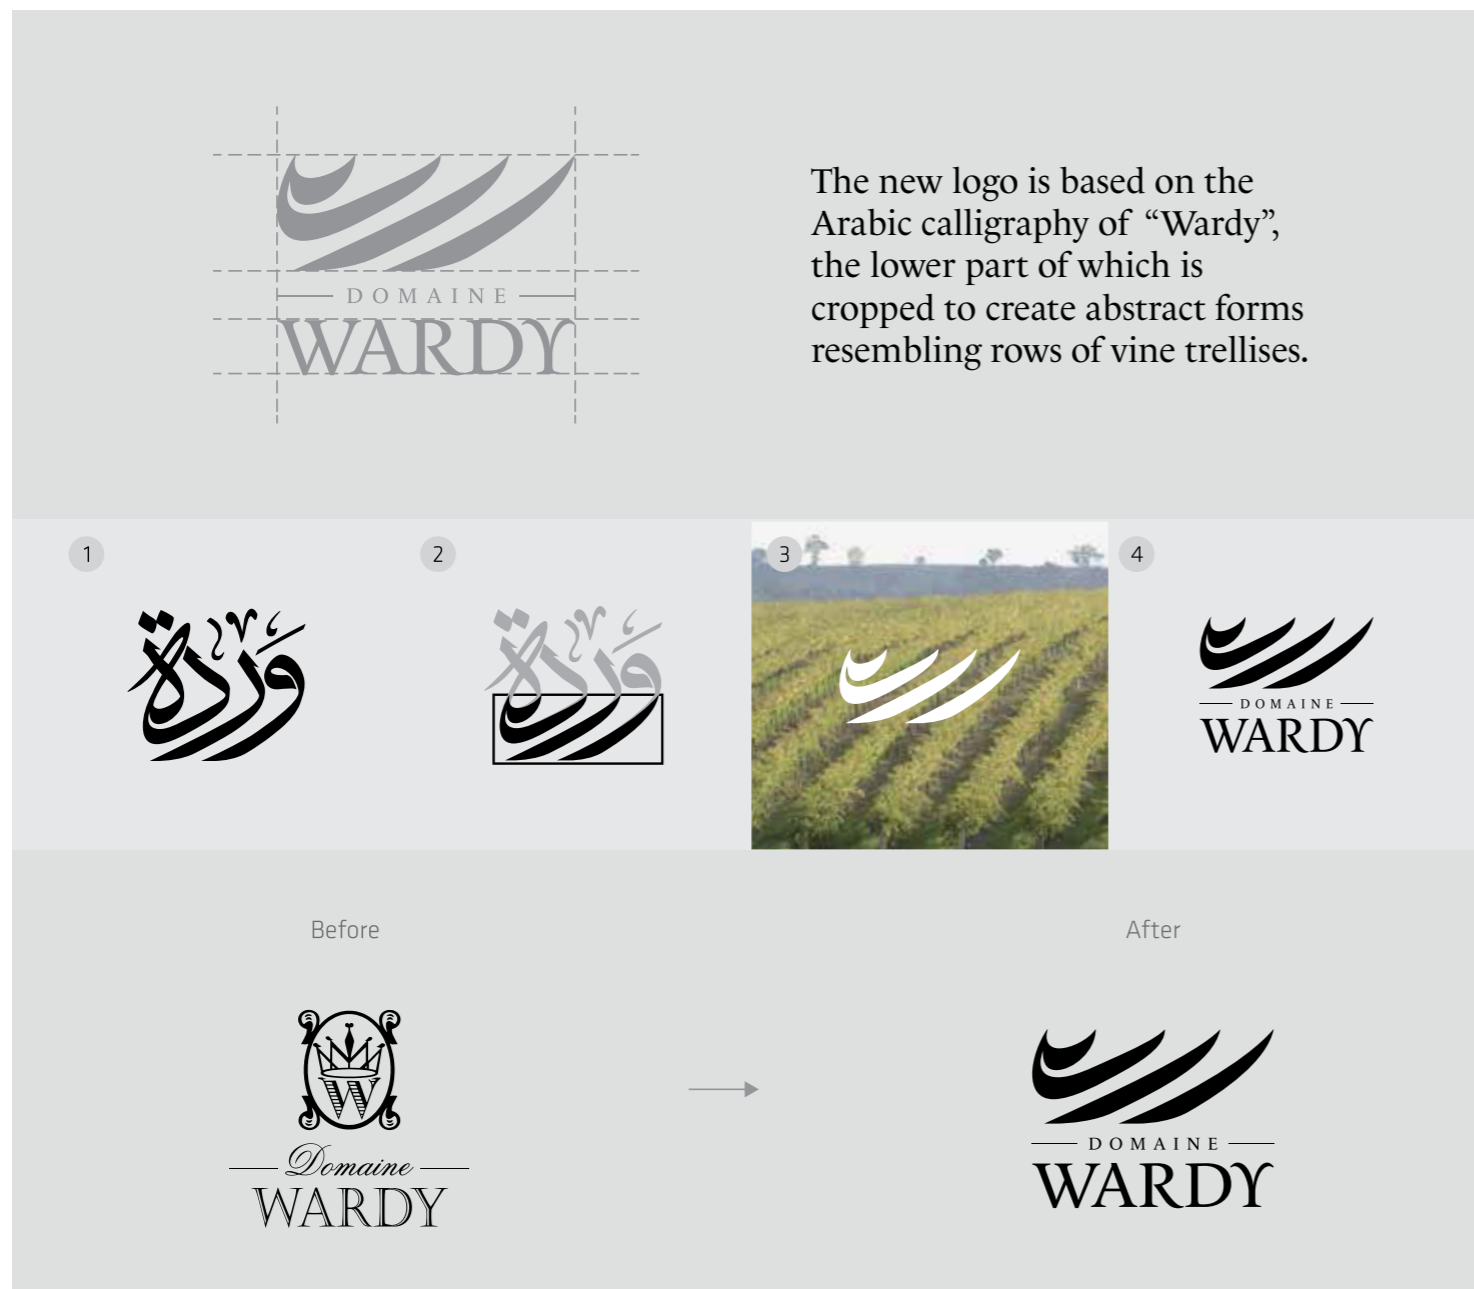

With new management, the logo no longer reflects this coming-of-age of the brand.

As we go back to nature with our commitment to organic farming in our new vineyards and respect for the environment with our switch to solar energy and the installation of a new waste - water treatment plant at the winery, we wanted a logo that represents this evolution. A dynamic, nature inspired logo.

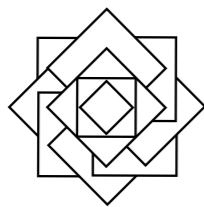

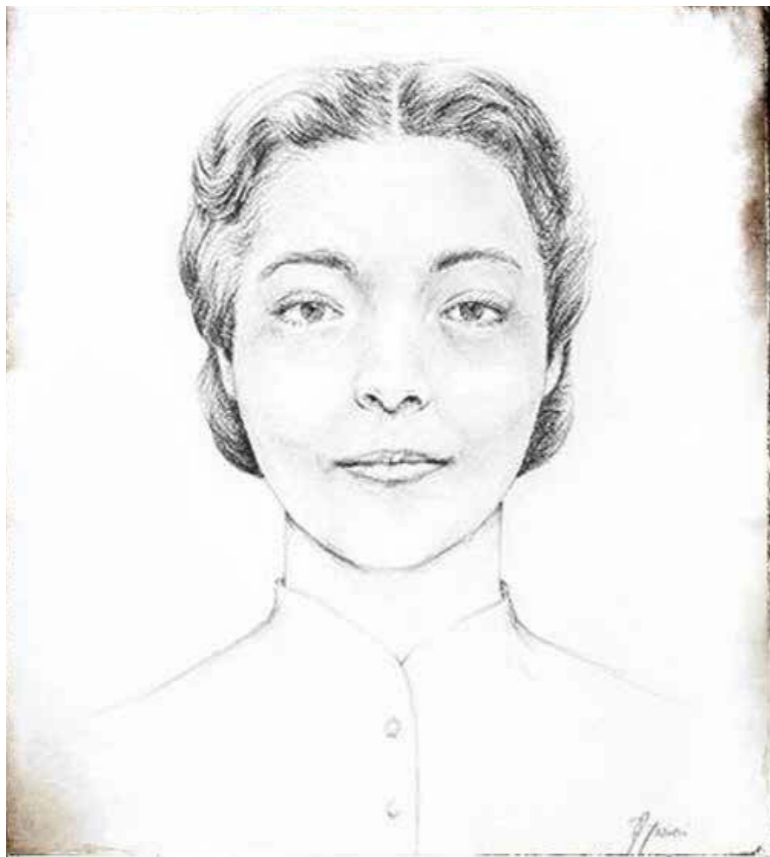

We engaged the renowned designer Tarek Atrissi to come up with a new logo as well as design new labels and refresh the brand's image. What he came up with was ingenious. The new logo is simply the main body of "Wardy" written in Arabic calligraphy which happens to resemble four rows of vine trellises.

The music chosen for the short animation, available on Domaine Wardy YouTube channel, comes from Leoš Janáček's opera "The Cunning Little Vixen" which deals with the relationship between man and nature, an issue at the core of all wineries. The theme itself depicts dawn / the start of a new day / a new beginning.

This is our new beginning as we take stock of our past and look to the future with joy, abandonment and a dedication to represent the Beqaa Valley terroir in the most honest light.

An Extraordinary Woman

The stories are many, handed down from generation to generation, each version slightly different, but all start with Wardy – Wardy (Rose) Mousalem [Wardy in Arabic means Rose]. In some versions she’s our great-great-grandmother, in others she’s even older. What they all have in common is how remarkable she must have been. Living in the Zahle region of Lebanon, her husband – a tough guy, possibly a freedom fighter – worked the fields and owned orchards and vineyards at a time when making wine and arak was common in all Lebanese homes. He was ambushed and killed by the Ottoman army. Wardy, left a young widow with three young children, came into her own and assumed the role of matriarch to the entire family. So much so, her children started to be referred to as Wardy’s children, the house became Wardy’s house, the orchard Wardy’s orchard, the vineyard Wardy’s vineyard.

They became the Wardys.
We became the Wardys.

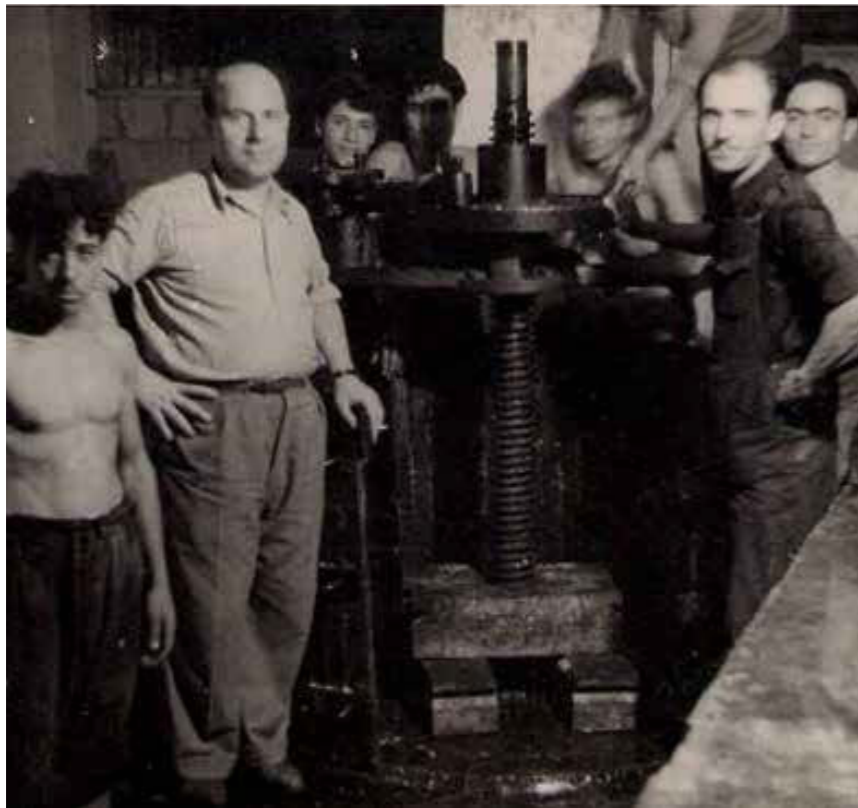

A young Middle Eastern woman – a widow, a single mother – working the fields to support her young children. Fearless, strong, confident, intelligent, tough. She must have been an extraordinary woman.

We at Domaine Wardy like to think that this is her “Domaine”, her vineyards, her wines, and her arak.

In her honor, an artisanal rose will be featured on all our packaging.

We also commissioned the outstandingly talented Lebanese artist Raya Mazigi to draw an imagined portrait of her that will be displayed at the winery. The portrait is based on the average of the facial features of all the Wardy women over the past 120 years.

Products of a Winery

The Wardys are the fourth generation of wine and arak makers - wines and spirits have been intertwined in our lives since 1881 when our great - grandfather, Rachid Cortas, started a winery in Zahle.

Each member of our family - the neighbouring Cortases and Wardys - grew to become accomplished wine and arak makers. It's in our blood.

In the 1930s, Toufiq Wardy moved to Aleppo in Syria to become a partner in a distillery. Habib Cortas followed, taking his young family for what was supposed to be a stay of a few months that ended up being a lifetime.

They went on to establish arak "Cortas & Wardy" in Aleppo and made wine and other spirits.

Our father George Wardy immigrated to Australia in 1945, where he and his brothers opened a restaurant in Toowoomba, Queensland, then a cake shop in Sydney. Our mother Marleine Cortas was born in Aleppo.

Upon George's return to Zahle in 1959, his cousin Toufic arranged his marriage to Habib's daughter Marleine. In a sense, we are the products of that winery in Aleppo.

In 1971, George and his older brother Aziz bought shares in "Gantous & Abou Raad", Lebanon's leading arak brand which was established in 1893 and created with the Gantous family "Solifed" (Société Libanaise de fermentation et de distillation).

The Wardys purchased the Gantous's shares in both companies in 1996 and began producing wine under the "Domaine Wardy" label as well as "Arak Wardy". In 2017, George and Marleine's children bought the complete shares of "Solifed" and "Gantous & Abou Raad".

So the family business came full circle. Back to Zahle and to the humble origins of the winery our forebears opened so long ago.

Claiming our Heritage

For far too long, the Lebanese wine industry has shied away from its roots, preferring the safe and well-tried route of imitation French or the sleek ultra-modern in its labelling and designs.

Yet this is a region that has continuously produced fine wines for more than 6000 years.

Domaine Wardy has decided to display our heritage proudly by designing labels that are unmistakably near eastern, unmistakably Lebanese.

We looked at traditional architecture, tiles, carpets, fabrics. But what we were most drawn to, were the incredibly detailed and beautiful wooden mosaics used for jewellery boxes, tables and backgammon boards.

These wonderfully intricate creations became the inspiration for our new labels, brought to life by the renowned designer Tarek Atrissi.

To make them more relevant to our single-varietal wines, we used colours inspired by the aromatic profile of each variety and a wood texture is used to imply that the wine has been oaked.

Closure: Cork

Technical Data: pH 3.68, RS 0 g/l

Alcohol content: 14.7%

Notes: Our 1st Grenache, and our only unoaked red single-varietal.

This is loud, brash and bright... bright pink: raspberry, strawberry and rose... with splashes of black cherry, orange and pomelo peel, oregano and pepper. Loud flavors, loud tannins and loud alcohol. A wine for the young-at-heart. Beautiful slightly chilled.

Label: Middle-Eastern mosaic to indicate the origin of the wine: Lebanon. The colors are based on the aromatic profile of the grape variety. The lack of the wood texture indicates that the wine has not been oaked. Designed by Tarek Atrissi.

Bottling date: 7 Aug. 2020

Closure: Cork

Technical Data: pH 3.64, RS 0 g/l

Alcohol content: 13%

Notes:...and here it is... our first single-varietal Tempranillo, the Spanish variety that, it's been claimed, was planted in the Iberian Peninsula by our ancestors the ancient Phoenicians thousands of years ago. Let me say right away I'm hooked; dare I say it's my new favourite?

This is lusciously delicious. How to describe it? Floral, herbal, leafy with strong notes of black cherry. There's a wonderfully mysterious quality about it that I find utterly captivating.

Our first Tempranillo certainly won't be our last... It will definitely feature regularly in our portfolio.

Label: Middle-Eastern mosaic to indicate the origin of the wine: Lebanon. The colors are based on the aromatic profile of the grape variety. The wood texture indicates that the wine has been oaked. Designed by Tarek Atrissi.

Private Selection Red 2005

Available in 750ml

Information:

Wine: Red

Vintage: 2005

Composition: Cabernet Sauvignon (50%), Syrah (42%) & Tempranillo (8%)

Vineyard: North Beqaa & Zahle

Soil: Limestone & gravel

Harvest: Handpicked

Fermenter type: Stainless steel tanks

Skin maceration: 21 days

Oak type & maturation: New French oak barrels for 18 months

Bottling date: 22 May 2008

Closure: Natural cork

Technical Data: pH 3.52, RS <2 g/l

Alcohol content: 13.5%

Notes: A mature yet elegant wine, a wine that expresses a quiet confidence of one who has lived and gained from life's experiences yet is in no hurry to divulge its secrets.

The nose is dominated by the complex tertiary aromas of leather, mushroom and black olive as well as a meaty character that beautifully balances the notes of ripe black and red fruit; hints of spice add interest and complexity. The palate offers nice acidity which freshens up the ripe fruit, tannins are beautifully integrated and the finish is long.

Awards & honorable mentions:

Private Selection Red 2006

Available in 750ml

Information:

Wine: Red

Vintage: 2006

Composition: Cabernet Sauvignon (34%), Merlot (33%) & Syrah (33%)

Vineyard: North Beqaa & Zahle

Soil: Limestone & gravel

Harvest: Handpicked

Fermenter type: Stainless steel tanks

Skin maceration: 21 days

Oak type & maturation: New French oak barrels for 14 months

Bottling date: 18 Nov. 2008

Closure: Natural cork

Technical Data: pH 3.48, RS <2 g/l

Alcohol content: 15%

Notes: Black fruits arrive first on the nose: blueberry and blackberry, floral and smoky notes follow, then wonderful tertiary aromas: leather, mushroom, black olive and sun-dried tomato. The palate accentuates the fruit character and adds luscious notes of dates and dark chocolate at the end. A smooth, sophisticated wine with a very long finish.

Awards & honorable mentions:
