17 Best Glider and Rocking Chairs For Nursery – 2018

GLIDER CHAIRS

Here you'll discover best nursery gliders. From most affordable with basic features to more advanced and most comfortable.

Nursery gliders are increasingly popular as they are not only a perfect complement to a nursery but also help moms to feed, and dads to rock a baby to sleep and help them relax.

Rocking and gliding your baby is one of the magnificent pleasures of life. The gliding, rocking motion makes a peaceful transition from activity to sleep.

They are perfect for feeding before and after sleeping or night-time feedings or when your baby just needs to be held and helped to sleep which will happen quite often especially in the early days. And a nursery glider is something that will help you do just that.

A glider chair is not a necessity but having one it's like having a comfortable place not only to nurse, but a place to read bedtime stories every night, and more importantly to cuddle with your baby in the morning, day or in the middle of the night. Moreover, they are great for those days where your little one is not feeling well and wants to be rocked to sleep in your arms.

No matter which one you chose, it should be comfortable enough so you can fall asleep in and not wake up with a stiff neck. Moreover, one that you can use and won't be a sore eye once the nursing days are over and you can still enjoy using it. We hope that you'll find one that's perfect for you and your baby.

Delta Children Upholstered Glider Chair

Amazon Rating: ★★★★★

Delta Children Upholstered Glider is a perfect glider for a small nursery. It is a go-to choice for anybody who is looking to keep the amount of space they use limited. With this one, you're going to even forget that it's there at times – that seems like an exaggeration, but it's very compact and still maintains a good level of comfort.

In the end, you want to shoot for the most comfortable option that money can bring to you.

It's just a bit over $200, which means that this one it's going to remain one of the more affordable.

Check out these dimensions:

Assembled: 35.75" Height x 32.5" Width x 30.25" Depth

Seating: 18" Height x 20" Width x 21" Depth

There's no need to struggle with the worries of squeaking and noise, as this one will operate like darkness in the night. It's a very relaxing sensation to sit in it, and the thickly padded armrests make sure that your elbows don't get sore during the entire endeavor. It should hold up well with time, but like anything else, there are a few things to watch out for. The steel frame is going to improve upon the longevity, but a stiff cushion (that will soften over time) could push some people away.

The backrest was comfortable for many people, but there were still a few reviews that talked about it being a little too straight – if you prefer recliners and angled back rests, this isn't for you.

Modern Nursery Glider Swivel and Rocker

Amazon Rating: ★★★★★☆

Delta Children Emerson Glider, Swivel, and Rocker is another fantastic choice, very similar to the one that I have mentioned above except it is a bit more sophisticated in terms of modern look, the diamond tufted pattern on the back seems like something irresistible and more importantly comfort. Combine comfort with a great look and you have a winning product!

This nursery glider is comfortable and there is plenty of room for you and your LO and a nursing pillow just in case they need something extra to make them comfortable.

Beautifully crafted with a soft wingback silhouette. For extra comfort, the seat cushion is about 6.5" thick. This is as good as it can get. Not to mention the thickly padded armrests.

The backrest is about 26.5" high so it should work very well for short and tall people.

Build with a sturdy frame and durable steel to ensure whisper quite gentle glide and swivel motion. One of the nursing gliders that you'll enjoy for years to come.

The seat cushion is removable for easy cleaning. Just keep in mind that it does not recline and does not come with an ottoman. If you don't mind that, you'll be surprised with the comfort level it has to offer. It is available in 3 colors.
