

Functional furniture to upgrade child's homeschooling

General school experience has undergone a serious change amid the pandemic. Many schools have had to move to online teaching methods requiring children of all ages to learn from home. Working from home hasn't been stress-free for adults and kids have lost the plot because of easy distractions at home.

If as a concerned parent you're still wondering how to help your child concentrate on studies while at home - the idea is simple - provide them with a productive learning environment.

Delta Children Chair Desk

Featuring various beloved animation characters, this chair desk with storage bin by Delta Children is a perfect spot for kids to indulge in crafts, playtime, or finish their homework in comfort. The sturdy chair with colorful graphics of favorite characters (more than 10 options are available) features a built-in cup holder and a fabric storage bin beneath for storing books and more. The chair and desk combo has a large work surface and low height, making it suitable for preschoolers and toddlers.
