There are plenty of reasons people choose a mini crib over a standard crib. They save space, tend to be more affordable, and can be easily moved from room to room. Plus they're small and adorable — just like your little one.

Once you've decided to climb on the mini crib bandwagon, it's time to pick the mattress of your (or, more accurately, your baby's) dreams.

Best budget-friendly mini crib mattress

Serta SleepTrue 4-Inch Mini Crib Mattress

- Price: $
- Measurements: 38 L x 24 W x 4 H in.

Serta offers many of the same qualities as some much pricier brands with this mattress. It's Greenguard Gold certified and can fit snugly in most mini cribs. The cover is vinyl for wipe-off cleaning. It's also flippable, offering two firmness levels so you can use it past the infant stage.

What to know before you buy: You'll probably want to add a mini crib sheet since vinyl isn't the coziest cover material.

Best lightweight mini crib mattress

Simmons Kids SlumberTime Naturally 4-Inch Mini Crib Mattress

- Price: $
- Measurement: 38 L x 24 W x 4 H in.

This mattress comes in at just under 4 pounds, which makes it super easy to flip from the firm side to the soft side when your baby is ready.

It's also Greenguard Gold certified and features a soft cotton cover designed for breathability and comfort. Since it's waterproof, stain-resistant, and flippable, you may be able to use this mattress until your baby outgrows their mini crib.

What to know before you buy: Reviewers rave that this mattress is a great value for the price. They say the cotton cover makes a big difference when compared to other similarly priced mattresses that are topped with vinyl.
