

Best birthday gifts for 1-year-olds 🎉

by Kaitlyn Russell

The first birthday is a major milestone and signals the transition from baby to toddler. Over the past 12 months, your little has been exploring and discovering the world around them and is now ready to really dive into playtime and learning. From first words and first steps, this next year is going to be a big one. 🎉

If you're a mama unsure of what to suggest as gifts to friends and family, or attending a first birthday and have no idea what to bring, we rounded up our favorite gifts for 1-year-olds.

2 Chelsea kids upholstered chair with cup holder

This chair creates the perfect space for kids to read, snuggle or play in for years to come. The grey neutral helps it fit in with the decor in your home and the white piping and tufted buttons are a great sophisticated touch you don't normally see on kid's furniture. Plus how can you not love the functional details of the cup holder and the side pocket for books?
