BEST NURSERY GLIDER FOR 2018 – A LOOK AT THE BEST OF THE BEST

There's probably a lot of things you want in your nursery, but I'm here to tell you that your top priority should be a nursery glider. I know it seems like your baby needs so many things, but guess what? All they really need is you. Having a great nursery glider will make you want to spend time in their room and allow the two of you plenty of time for cuddles in a comfy spot. This is going to be the spot you do late night feedings in, read your baby's first books to them in, and hopefully even catch a few naps yourself in. All really important stuff! You might be like, well what really makes a nursery glider any different than a normal chair? Our rookie mom squad took a look at the best nursery glider of 2018 and see what makes them so special.

DELTA CHILDREN DYLAN NURSERY RECLINER GLIDER

If you glanced quickly at this chair, I am not sure you would believe it actually belonged in a nursery. Yet, its whisper like a recliner and super smooth swivel action is made just for that. You can keep your feet up when this chair is in full recline because the bottom pops up into a footrest. PS If you are expecting a little princess, you have to check out the blush color that this chair comes in. It is dreamy! Check current prices here!
