Cook This Up!

As parents and caregivers are perfecting their home chef skills, babies can also get involved in the "cooking." The Fisher-Price Cutest Chef Gift Set includes a crinkle recipe card, play tongs with a meatball spinner, a chewy oven mitt teether (BPA-free) and a wearable chef's apron bib. $13.35 amazon.com

Get Crafty with It

Kids will love getting crafty with the Chelsea Chair Set and Table from Delta Children. The table has a double-sided art surface that features a dry erase board that flips into a chalkboard. Underneath the art surface is an easy-access storage compartment for markers, paintbrushes, toys and other items. It is the perfect play table for art projects, tea parties, snacks and more. $99 deltachildren.com

Build Those Baby Biceps

Parents and caregivers aren't just working from home these days; they're working out from home as well. Now, the little ones can take part in the fitness fun with a Fisher-Price gym-themed set that pumps up playtime. The Baby Biceps Gift Set includes four toys to pump up those fine motor skills, a soft wearable headband, a lightweight kettle bell, clacker beads and a pretend protein shake with fun jingle sounds. $14.99 target.com

Cute Baby of the Month

Name: Paxton

Birthdate:
September 20, 2018

Favorite pastimes:

Paxton loves dancing and singing along to the Baby Shark song. He is a small daredevil, who loves climbing up everything and enjoys standing on the top of the furniture. He also loves all kinds of vegetables!

If you would like your baby or toddler (ages 6 months - 24 months, please) featured in Tot Tips, email a photo and important stats to contactus@washingtonparent.net.
