

The Disney-approved stroller you need to add to your Amazon cart

There's nothing more inconvenient than getting to the airport, only to find out your carry-on is not making it onto the plane with you or your necessities don't meet the requirements.

With holiday vacation on the horizon, now is the time make sure you're well equipped for everything and anything security might throw your way -- especially after Disney parks announced their latest stroller restrictions. Jeep's all new Deluxe Open Trails Jogger is the perfect stroller for stress-free travel. Not only does it feature a reclining-seat, but the sleek compact design is totally Disney-approved thanks to the slim measurements.

There's undercarriage storage to hold all everything from iPads, diaper bags, snacks and then some. Plus, it includes a car seat adapter making it a dream for every on-the-go parent. And if you're worried about trying to break it down to fit on the plane's overhead compartment, the stroller folds quickly and allows you to remove the back tiers.

Jeep Deluxe Open Trails Jogger by Delta Children, $168.71

Amazon customers have rated this stroller 4.3 stars thanks to its moderate price point and easy-to-use design.

"Pros. it gives a smooth ride in all types of ground, its easy to fold up, easy to put together and I love that it had a big storing area. It also has a cup and valuables holder which makes it super handy," one reviewer explained.

Another Amazon customer said, "the stroller is more on the narrow side so it's easier to fit in your car and maneuver in stores, etc. The price point is incredibly for the quality of the stroller. I love the space for my phone and keys at the top of the stroller, the storage space underneath has plenty of room and the tray is super easy to remove and clean."