ABOUT YOUR WICKER MOSES BASKET

We would like to tell you a little about the For Your Little One Moses basket. This basket has been individually handmade by a skilled craftsman. The baskets have been woven in the same way for many centuries. Originally they were used for transporting and storing goods and over the years they have been developed to suit the modern needs.

WHAT IS IT?

Wicker is made from willow. It is a very fast growing, and unlike traditional willow tree, actually looks more like a shrub. It's grown from ground level and cut back each season making it an environmentally sustainable product.

WHERE IS IT GROWN?

Wicker grows prolifically throughout the Northern Hemisphere; it's actually native in China. Wicker related products are the main source of income for villagers, so it's good for the wider community too. Wicker comes from an environmentally sustainable tree, grown in abundance to a community whose subsistence depends upon its production.

HOW IS IT MADE?

This wicker once picked is dried and transported to a specialist basket factory. The wood is then rehydrated to make it flexible (on average they are soaked in water for four days before they are woven). Skilled craftsmen create a weave for the Wicker Moses Basket called pairing. The technique gives the basket its unique shape. The basket is then fully tested to British standards.

Your baby and yourself can sleep soundly in the knowledge that this Moses Basket was made using the best materials and it conforms to British/ EU standards.

Moses basket conforms to BSEN1466:2014
