

Axel S LED Pendant

Steven Haulenbeek, 2012

The Axel Pendant, by Steven Haulenbeek, is a beautiful, circular integrated LED pendant that will create a sleek look in your kitchen, dining, entry, office, or commercial/contract setting. The exterior of the Axel is a matte white high-performance compact polyurethane resin. The clever placement of the LED modules within its the sinuous opal white interior allows the light to be naturally diffused while providing both up and down lighting.
