

Volta S 120 LED Linear Suspension Lamp

FROM Industrial Design, 2016

The Volta, by FROM Industrial Design, is an innovative linear suspension lamp that takes state of the art technology and compacts it into a simple form and user experience. The lamp floats on two cables that both power the light and suspend it. The Volta can also rotate 360 degrees around these cords to create up light, down light, or any angle in between. The lamp also subtly houses the dimmer on the end of its body for easy access. It can be hung parallel to the floor, slightly tilted—or in groups to give it a completely different look, from professional to whimsical.

Special Notes:

Due to the thin profile of canopy, we provide a back plate to cover the exposed space of a standard JBox. A custom smaller JBox can be used instead to circumvent the need for the back plate.
