6 times more Anabolic than Test (nearly equal to Tren). 2 times more Androgenic (slightly under Tren). Amplifies Blood Nitrogen levels encouraging Protein Synthesis. Amplifies IGF levels by double (same as Tren). Due to its equal effects, without the negative sides of prolactin. Difference between Oral and Injectable: Oral Metabolises rapidly in the Liver via Methylation causing a dangerous spike in Liver Enzymes. Due to the rapid Metabolization Oral Dbol converts at an astounding rate. Oestrogen and E2 skyrocket leaving an athlete at risk for Gynecomastia. Injectable releases into the Limbic System first which means minimal damage to the Liver and a less aggressive spike in Enzymes. Furthermore, due to the slower release the conversion of Dbol is dramatically decreased. This means less bloat and less risk for Gynecomastia. Due to the dramatic spike in IGF, Inj Dbol is a comparable substitute for Tren with a lower impact on Liver and Kidneys. The side affects are easier to manage than Tren as well. 25mg Proviron twice a day will eliminate most of the E2 build up keeping you dry and vascular while on cycle. It is still recommended that you take milk thistle, NAC, and liv52 because Dbol is still a Methyl which impacts the Liver regardless of how it is taken. In addition, Dandelion Root will help mitigate bloat on cycle.
