	Chocolate Lily helps those who chronically over-extend themselves past the point of tiredness in an effort to maintain control over their lives. This essence reveals how everything in life is connected to our center. It opens awareness of our center's connections to the source of our vitality, and helps us open to and hold our life experiences with more spaciousness and less reactivity.
Chocolate Lily	Jadeite Jade is calming and centering; an enfolding vibration of peace, balance, and timeless simplicity. This essence helps us live in the moment, in our center, with an awareness and acceptance of our true and essential selves. It brings us to our center, and reminds us that we can rest in our center because there is really nowhere else we need to be.	Jadeite Jade
	Labrador Tea helps us move from an unbalanced, transitional state to a centered, energized one. It works with us to calm and center extreme imbalances of physical, emotional and mental energy, and helps us integrate these different flows so they may function in the body in a unified way. It will then support us in making the necessary adjustments to bring us back into balance.
Labrador Tea	Lapland Rosebay promotes self-knowledge through the act of self-love. As we learn to love ourselves unconditionally, we find that it doesn't matter what our questions or challenges are, we will be able to find the answers within. In other words, there is nothing that cannot be known, seen, and understood from this place of self-love.	Lapland Rosebay
	Red Elder is feminine, nurturing gentle and soft. It broadcasts a message from the Earth that all is well. It invites us back to our center and increases our understanding of how we can enjoy the bounty of life from within our physical bodies. This essence also helps us ground abundance into our lives by increasing our sensual appreciation of earthly beauty and substance.
Red Elder	Round-Leaf Orchid helps us live more deeply in our hearts, especially in confusing or chaotic times. It encourages us to let go of our attachment to struggle so we can bring our energy and focus back into our center. We will then be better able to receive fresh insights as to how we can best resolve the difficulties we are involved with.	Round-Leaf Orchid
