

HEALING ESSENCES FROM THE HEART OF NATURE

Essences for Energetic Hygiene and Protection

Customers have asked if there are any essences to help prevent being infected by the coronavirus. The simple answer is no, but essences can help in other ways.

As the virus spreads, people respond to the unfolding event in different ways, and many respond based on what they hear in the news. Since the virus is spreading and we currently have no way to control it, it is natural for some people to respond with fear and panic. We are all affected by the collective energy surrounding us, so when fear and panic occupy the energy field of the planet it can be difficult to stay positive and avoid being swallowed up in the clouds of growing unrest.

Essences can help us stay present and connected to our Source so we trust in our guidance. They protect us from outside energy that can knock us off-center. They help maintain our energetic hygiene by cleansing and fortifying our energy field. Essences help us stay calm, grounded and centered, even when the latest news reports make everything seem crazy and out of control. Essences support a positive attitude so outside influences don't add more stress to our bodies and our lives.

On a spiritual level, essences can help as people confront their fears. The emotions that come up may be different for everyone. Essences can bring conscious awareness to the emotional and mental patterns we use to keep us safe, empowering us with the opportunity to choose positive and better feeling thoughts.

Purification 'Space Clearing Formula' contains the four most powerful cleansing and releasing essences in our repertory. This formula is designed to purify your personal energy field and the space around you, including your home and work environments. It revitalizes, balances and stimulates the renewal of energy on all levels of your energy system. Use Purification when you feel the need to release unwanted or stagnant energy from the mind, heart or physical body. Use it when you've been out in public and feel like you've picked up stuff that's not yours. Use Purification spray whenever you feel that your space needs to be refreshed.

Guardian 'Healthy Boundaries Formula' creates a powerful force-field of protection in your aura. It invokes positive, harmonious energy to help you claim your energetic space, maintain your grounding, and feel the protection of strong healthy boundaries. Use it whenever you go out in public and want to feel more protected. This combination formula is particularly helpful when you:

- Are overly reactive to influences in your environment
- Are ambivalent about being present in your body and on the earth, because you don't feel safe or protected
- Tend to take on or absorb the thoughts and emotions of others
- Are unable to embody your sensitivity practically and easily because of a lack of functional boundaries
- Feel tired or run down and need to rest and nurture yourself, but can't seem to create the space to do it

Soul Support 'Emergency Formula' is our go-to rescue life-line that we recommend in any stressful situation. We continue to discover new and powerful ways this amazing formula supports us. This formula will bring you back into your body after trauma and shock. It will stop energetic leaks of the aura when there has been a negative interaction with someone, and will especially help calm the mind and body of fear and chaos. Keep a ¼ oz bottle in your pocket or purse and a 1 oz bottle on your kitchen counter and desk at work. We keep a bottle of Soul Support spray in the glove box of the car and an extra ¼ oz on hand to give to a stranger in need.

Aragonite gem elixir promotes energetic hygiene and independence. It is helpful for anyone who is easily over-stimulated or has a tendency to become energetically enmeshed with others. It helps those who have difficulty disengaging from one project to move on to a completely different focus. This gem elixir is grounding. It helps us to be fully present and connected to the Earth and our Source, making it easier to move into and through the situations we attract, regardless of the dynamic and who or what is involved. It facilitates the release of interpersonal energy connections that are no longer useful so we can return to a state of energy independence.

Northern Coral Root flower essence teaches us how to transform and recycle energetic toxins and debris back into light. Toxic energy is simply energy that has served its purpose and needs to be released to its next logical phase of evolution. In other words, it has become non-serving energy in search of a new purpose. Many of us hold on to toxic emotions and thoughts, and we take on a certain amount of the collective debris that has resulted from centuries of human experience on this planet. This essence reminds us that everything is Light, and by allowing all distorted energy to return to its original, Divine pattern, we are just finishing the co-creative cycle. Northern Coral Root is also a very important essence for Space Clearing. It can be used to release stagnant and distorted emotions, thought-forms, and other energetic debris from any enclosed space or piece of land. In a larger context, it can also help to transform the thought forms of fear, hysteria and rumor that often accompany large cataclysmic events.

Gigha Quartz environmental essence provides many levels of healing. The quartz formation embodies an ancient and sacred energy with the power to shift our grounding and alignment in profound ways. It is a crystallization of light and energy that contains deep wisdom and knowledge of the ancient secrets of the Earth. It embodies a complete marriage of the elements and represents the foundation of the planet. This essence can take us to those places within ourselves. Primarily, Gigha Quartz is a grounding essence, encouraging us to become more present in a soft and empowering way. As we become more grounded, the essence helps us build up our inner core strength and discipline to maintain a deeper alignment with the planet. This alignment enables us to live our lives with a physical and energetic posture that is more upright, self-contained and authentic, leading to a greater expression of our power and creativity.
