Bog

Crowberry

Gigha Quartz

Bog is about the realization of our potential. It can help us create, protect and hold the inner space where deep changes can be initiated, until they are ready to manifest on the outer, more noticeable levels of our lives.

Crowberry will help us work through extremes we are experiencing of darkness and light, and hope and despair; thus enabling us to hold these variations without fear and with respect and gratitude.

Gigha Quartz is a crystallization of light, energy, deep wisdom, and knowledge of the ancient secrets of the Earth. It can help those who, in response to recent events, are feeling ungrounded, unsettled, and unclear about how to move forward.

Goatsbeard reminds us that the best way to cope with uncertainty, danger, and fears for the future is to raise our vibration to one of joy and inspired creativity, which it will consistently help us to perform.

Red Quartz keeps our forces and our consciousness moving and flowing, so we don't get bogged down or stuck in the drama and trauma of current events. This essence also stimulates our creative energy to connect with our inspiration to conduct ourselves differently.

White Violet can be used to strengthen our boundaries, our sense of personal safety, and our trust: in ourselves, each other, Nature, and all benevolent spiritual forces.
