

I have used the Sound Oasis sound pad on myself and on others, with and without energy healing. All find it to be fantastic.

My daughter just became a foster mother to adopt in five months. Her 8 month-old son awoke several times during the night until he used the sound pad. After two weeks of use and other remedies, he now sleeps through the night. She and he have usurped it!

I am writing to express my appreciation for your bringing to the market an affordable, portable, high quality Vibroacoustic therapy system. It has been very cost-prohibitive to utilize this technology until now, and I am very impressed with the quality of your device.

I am impressed with the embedded audio programs, and also LOVE using my Psychoacoustic 3D audio CD's produced by the Center for Neuroacoustic Research in Encinitas California. I have offered sessions to some of my clients and they have raved about how relaxing and profoundly effective it is.

Thanks for a great product!

I love all the sounds and the quality. I also like that it is a sound machine, radio, alarm clock all in one...and I can play my iPod.

I had my doubt about whether Sound Oasis would help my insomnia, but after a week I am a believer! It helps me get to sleep in a shorter time and get back to sleep if I wake up during the night! Goodbye to sleep meds that make me feel groggy the next day! :)

- Jan Horton Anderson

I developed tinnitus in 1998, when I had neighbors playing techno music at all unpredictable hours of the day. It attacked my sense of well being and caused the hyper-vigilance that provokes and feeds tinnitus. They moved out eventually but the tinnitus has never left - although it does shift in intensity.

This Gray Noise track is so comforting - blocking both the high pitch of the tinnitus and the footfall thumps of my newest neighbors and their small children. My recent distress at my tinnitus being ramped up again has been much soothed by this purchase. It sounds like a nice outward holiday trip on jet, masking incidental noise and creating a peaceful ambient. Thank you!

I sleep more soundly and feel better when I wake up. Here's to a better night sleep!

I just wanted you to know that I used a Travel Sound Therapy System for almost 5 years every night before it finally died. I purchased a competing "Sound Soother" from a retail store and was utterly disgusted that they could sell such a worthless product. I decided that it would be worth my time and money to try your Deluxe System. It was well worth every penny! The speaker quality way out performs the travel system I had for 5 years. Thank you very much!

- Greg

You don't list this as a reason to use Sound Oasis products, but I use your Sound Oasis Travel unit to cover up my wife's very loud snoring. It works most excellently for this. It is the only reason we are able to sleep in the same bed. I had her make a cloth headband into which I inserted a set of your pillow speakers so I could cover both ears at the same time. The pillow speakers are a little bulky to use this way, but they work. The travel unit also works as an effective alarm clock that awakens only me. - D.S.L., SK

I recommend the Sound Oasis Deluxe unreservedly. It is a beautifully designed piece of equipment, with such a wide range of soothing sounds that there are bound to be a few to suit everyone.

The radio facility is also excellent, as is the timer that allows you to set radio or sounds to fade after 30, 60 or 90 minutes. Particularly impressive is the way the sounds slow down towards the end, which is very soporific.

I have always hated alarm clocks so love being woken by a sound of my choice, like gentle birdsong.

The backlit display is excellent - I can see the time and date clearly if I wake in the night.

My only criticism is that some of the sounds are on too obvious a repetitive loop, which I find wakes me up rather than puts me to sleep. But other people may not find this. With my favourite sounds, (Ocean, North Woods and Hidden Cove) it's very hard to detect the repetition.

- Mandy Sutter

The Sound Oasis Deluxe is awesome - next best thing to a cure for tinnitus (if only one could be found).

I tried it last night for the first time, drifting off to sleep to the soothing sounds of the ocean. Best sleep I've had for a very long time. I set it to go off gently after 90 minutes, but I was asleep well before then, untroubled by the usual ringing in my ears. Such a relief to find this product, thank you.

My only slight niggle is that the FM radio can only take three station pre-sets, where half a dozen would be better. But this is a minor matter - the machine itself is worth every penny for the relief it brings from tinnitus-troubled, sleepless nights.

- Ken Runicles

It actually works!! I've been able to get much better sleep and feel better during the daytime. Please add a pillow speaker option.

- C. B., Big Pine Key, FL

I like that it doesn't repeat the sound quickly like a cheap one I had.

- D.M., Stamping Ground, KY

Calms the babies when trying to sleep.

- T.R., Novato, CA

I like the many sound choices and it doubles as an alarm clock.

- S.W., Homerville, OH

Great sound clarity and variety. It works as advertised!

- E. S., La Vista, NE

Helps my husband sleep. Love the nature sounds and the shape looks like a piece of art!

- C.M., Chicago, IL

The different sounds and Sleep Enhancement are great!

- V.H., Germantown, WI

I like design and option to purchase additional sound cards.

- C.C., Wichita, KS

It is loud and easy to use!

- R.H., Senoia, GA

Drowns out the noise of passing vehicles so my son can sleep.

- L.S., Charlotte, NC

Your unit is very easy to use and the sounds are so lifelike.

I have owned a Sound Oasis without an alarm clock for several years. With this new version, the ocean sounds are particularly relaxing as I read. The white noise is subtle and drowns out other extraneous sounds. I like the white noise for sleep.

I am anxious to tell you of the success that I have had with your Sound Oasis® Sleep System.

About 21 years ago I had a bout with chronic insomnia. I lasted about 2 years and was quite severe. I was averaging about 2-3 hours a week of REM sleep. Needless to say it was quite debilitating. I went to hospitals and sleep centers such as John Hopkins and Georgetown and received advice from the head of Stamford's sleep center that, at the time, was considered the top sleep expert. None had seen so little sleep before although each had their own theory. Nothing helped. I even received a write up in the New England Journal of Medicine about the severity of this insomnia for no apparent medical or psychological reason. I tried all sorts of methods to solve this problem. Bio feedback, a drink before bed time, sleeping pills. Exercise, no exercise. You name it I tried it. I even tried to find a common denominator by creating a spread sheet outlining what I did, ate, drank as well as the cycles of the moon.

Two years later it seemed to get better for whatever reason. For the next 15 years I slept about 4 hours a night, always nervous each night about when my insomnia would return. About 5 years ago it did return. I lived with it for a year or so hoping that it would fade away like the last bout did. It did not. I started to take action again hoping that the technology of sleep had progressed over the years. The medications had progressed, but overall understanding of sleep had not. When I went to see the head of neurology at a very prestigious hospital, I was surprised to find the same doctor I had met with 15 years earlier at an equally prestigious hospital. I asked him what has happened over the last 15 years. He indicated "not much". He, like everyone else, prescribed various drugs. Like with the previous bout, I started to try other methods to solve the problem. I tried acupuncture, new drugs and other approaches.

For those of you who are unaware of the details of insomnia, a huge number of people suffer from this form of insomnia. It is very common and the least understood form of insomnia. It is hugely debilitating, depressing, and makes life not worth living. It is a constant struggle to get out of bed and do anything. I am a small business owner and have to get up each day and try to keep things on track. It was a constant and painful struggle each day.

On February first I turned 50. My wife had fairly large party planned for me. I wanted to feel good for the party and had not slept for a few days, so I took a couple of Ambian the night before. I had not taken any sleep medication for a few weeks so as to increase my odds that I would receive some success from the Ambian. One of the gifts that I received for my birthday was the Sound Oasis. I set it up, read about it and used it. Almost immediately I noticed a difference. Of course I thought that it was merely a coincidence. After all every now and then I do get ok nights sleep or a short period of good sleep. The good sleep continued and actually got better. The only bad nights that I have had since starting to use Sound Oasis was when I went to a sleep clinic and they wired me up with electrodes and said try and sleep. Additionally I had a bad cold and took cold medication which always keeps me up. Except for those 2 incidents, have slept better than I have ever slept in the last 20 years. I have been averaging about 5-6 hours a night. I have actually overslept a night or two which I have never done before. I haven't needed an alarm clock in 20 years.

I believe that my sleep problem has always been my inability to slow my brain down. After speaking with other chronic insomniacs, this description is not unusual. The combination of the sounds, voice, script and design of your product has created a system that leads me to a very focused point, blocking out other thoughts. I have been quickly falling asleep and staying asleep longer. And when I do wake up for what ever reason, I have been able to get back to sleep.

In the past, getting to sleep did not seem to be my problem. I was the waking up after 1-2 hours and not being able to get back to sleep. Over 5 years my body adjusted to this and this became a bad habit. Over the last 3 months the bad sleep habit has been changing for the better. I actually got one 8 hour night which I don't believe has ever happened.

Two and a half months is too long for a coincidence. This could actually be the solution (knock on wood). The benefits of better sleep has helped business as well as my personal life. I would have paid anything for a solution. Solution came in the form of your unit.

I think the secret, at least for me, is that I believe that that I could not relax my brain enough to fall asleep. I would just lay in bed all night going from one random thought to another. If I was lucky enough to get to sleep I would wake up in about an hour. I think that the overall bad habits contributed to the continuous waking up. When I would wake up after an hour of so, it would usually be for the rest of the night due to the fact that 1-2 hours of REM sleep was a lot for me and my brain was even more active after a bit of REM sleep.

It seems that using the Sound Oasis Sleep System has done the following:

Created a way for my brain to focus on one thing, blocking everything else out.

This took the pressure of going to sleep off allowing me to not worry about going to sleep.

The pressure being off and better sleep habits developing has led me to sleep longer without waking up.

Before using your unit, I would get maybe one good night of sleep every week or so. Now it is only one bad night every week or so. This is without any drugs whatsoever.

The entire design of the product, at least for me, is quite perfect. The amazing sounds. Unlike any I have ever heard seems to immediately relax me. The person behind the voice used has become a good friend who I look forward to spending time with each evening. The script used for the various sessions are brilliantly abstract. Whoever wrote the scripts seems to really know the concept of sleep deprivation. All together an amazingly well thought out product. I plan on purchasing a few extras for back ups.

Being sleep deprived is like living in a one dimensional world. You can only think about what is happening right now. Kind of like playing chess without thinking about future moves. You can not win that way.

I have always felt very fortunate about aspects of my life. Great family and a successful business. Most sleep doctors felt that was odd due to the fact that they feel that a lot of chronic insomnia stems from depression. Sleep was always my albatross. I told many friends that I would have given my right arm for a guaranty of 4 hours a night or greater.

"Knock on wood". This may be a thing of the past.

The bottom line is that you and your team deserve a thank you and congratulations on giving me back a segment of my life that I, and sleep professionals were struggling with.

There are many like me who are tormented with chronic insomnia. In the professional field of sleep deprivation usually only apnea and narcolepsy were focused on. All the others needed to fend for themselves. At least for me it seems like your Sound Oasis has begun to return my sleep habits back to normal, something I haven't felt in over 20 years.

If there is anything that I can do for you and your team, please let me know.

I owe you all, thank you.

I wanted to let you know how pleased I am with the Sound Oasis machine. I have had several machines in the past that I was dissatisfied with. This was the answer I was looking for. The sounds on the machine are authentic and real sounding. The one touch button is great and it is nice to set it for a specific amount of time to play then go off. The ability to add sounds through cards is also a big plus. I have thoroughly enjoyed it. It provides the perfect soothing environment for sleeping. Your product rocks!

I am so thankful to have discovered Sound Oasis on the Internet. I recently downloaded two files, one for Pink Noise and the other for Tinnitus. They each have an 8 hour, uninterrupted, playing-time and can be downloaded onto a MP3 Player. Once there, I can either use my earbuds or my Ipod dock to hear the downloads.

The Pink Noise very effectively covers any and all extraneous sounds and the Tinnitus is very soothing to my ringing ears; both exceeded my hopes and expectations.

Equally important is the excellent customer service, this is by far one of the greatest companies with products that actually do what they say they will do.

I have been searching for such sound for months. Most "white noise" products have a loop every five, twenty or eighty minutes. The result is that just as I am drifting off the sound turns off and startles me back awake. Alternatively, I was sometimes awoken from a deep sleep when the sound "re-looped."

Now I sleep much better: 8 hours of constant, sound blocking noise.

What's also great is the variety of sounds offered by Sound Oasis. I've been using white noise for years but it turns out that the sounds in my apt are better blocked by brown noise. I'm deeply grateful and better rested.

I would just like to let you know that purchasing your S-5000 Oasis Sound System was the best idea EVER.

Been using it now for over a month and I'm sleeping straight through the night. It blocks out the noise of birds and squirrels on the roof, as well as the flapping plastic during stormy weather. Simply a Wonderful Machine. It was well worth it. Glad I found You. Thank you for shipping to Cape Town South Africa.
