Jonah Takagi

Tasked with creating a table made entirely of wood, Jonah Takagi designed an honest, straightforward family of occasional tables. Each Index table utilizes the same typology of structure, with the shape of the top and scale differentiating the three sizes. Table legs are capped by an elegant arc that gently intrudes into the surface of the table. Constructed in stained ash that highlights the natural grain of the wood, Index is available in Whitewash, Green, or Yellow lacquer.
