

No Rice Cooker

By Alex Moonsang

I make rice for dinner very often.

I learned to make rice in a pot when I started college because my roommates would always have rice already cooked in their rice cooker and I didn't want to interfere or take from them.

Now, because I've recently moved from FL to PA I haven't found it necessary to buy one.

1 cup of jasmine rice.

(Photo: (I think.)

Wash the rice 2 times & measure the water up to the first line on my index finger.

(Is that enough water?)

Add a dash of oil & bring the water to a boil, then simmer. Stir often.

(In fear of burning the rice)
with no rice cooker.

10 Minutes Later

I made great rice
with no rice cooker,
