

- so thirsty, then
  - waiting
  - puddles as drums
  - flooding feeling
  - gentle and hard.
  - gentle or hard or
  - loud or quiet
  - wet
  - immediate
- Rainy music is!

YOUR BODY IS MUSIC

STAR MAP

Can you catch a drop in the center?

Point to a spot on your body or a spot in the world and make it wet.

Best played in a light shower, alone or with a friend.

Then what?

Two people are in the rain. One person wears a white shirt. They try to get wet. While the other person, tries without touching them, tries to keep them dry. When their belly button is visible through their tee shirt, the game is over.

RAIN GAMES

by LORRAINE

1. This is a game for 2 or more people.
2. Open your mouth.
3. How much rain can you catch? How much rain can you hold? For how long?
4. You are a fountain.
5. What kind of fountain are you?
6. Again.

RAIN NAMES

1. Write five names on your body with water-soluble ink or paint. Make sure they are visible to you or someone else.
2. Let the rain wash away the names.
3. The last visible name is your rain name. This is how the rain remembers you.

1. Find your last.
2. Find your puddle.
3. Drop your leaf into your puddle.
4. Where does your leaf point? Does your leaf have a point? Points? A green stem? Is your leaf broken? Is your leaf a flower? Is it still? Does it sink? Is it deep, deep, so deep? Is it carrying one drop across? To where? How far? And where is the rain now?

LEAF OR A C L E

F O U N D

You are in the rain. You are looking as the rain is looking (for you). (Can you find...)

- ... a broken black umbrella?
- ... someone(s) kissing?
- ... the sound of water when it is looking for skin?
- ... a single wet shoe?
- ... simple soup?
- ... a splash bigger than your head?
- ... an animal that is happy to be wet?
