DYNO & E-TUNING DISCLAIMER, RELEASE & WAIVER

Testing and/or tuning will push your vehicle to its mechanical limits. You (the undersigned customer) assume all the risks and liabilities associated with testing/tuning your engine to these specified mechanical limits. 14.7 Solutions does not guarantee your engine, powertrain and/or complete vehicle will be capable of handling the additional stresses of testing/tuning without complete, partial or full catastrophic failure. Under NO circumstance is 14.7 Solutions liable for ANY damages that occur to your engine, drivetrain or any part of your vehicle incurred during or after your vehicle is tested/tuned. If any part of your vehicle (including but not limited to the engine, turbos, intake system, exhaust system, driveline, transmission, differentials, tires, etc) experiences catastrophic failure during tuning and/or testing, 14.7 Solutions will NOT be held liable or responsible for the repair or replacement or cost thereof of the failed part(s). If your vehicle experiences catastrophic mechanical failure during testing/tuning and there is an outstanding balance with 14.7 Solutions for parts and/or services rendered before testing and tuning, payment in full is still owed to 14.7 Solutions, including the cost of the testing/tuning.

If 14.7 Solutions begins your Dyno/E-tuning testing and it is found that your vehicle is not mechanically sound and it becomes necessary to pull the vehicle off of the dyno and/or discontinue a remote or E-tuning session, then your non-refundable dyno deposit will be forfeit (not applied toward the tune) and you (the undersigned customer) will be responsible for the complete cost of the testing/tuning. If you have been assigned a tuning date and are absent from your specified appointment for ANY reason and have failed to provide a 7 day notice PRIOR to your scheduled appointment, then your non-refundable dyno deposit will be forfeit. When you are rescheduled, you will be responsible for the complete cost of the testing/tuning.

I hereby acknowledge that I am aware of the potential risks associated with testing/tuning and that I waive any and all claims against 14.7 Solutions for ANY damages that may occur to my vehicle as a result there of. By signing this disclaimer, I acknowledge and agree that I solely accept the risks, liability and potential expense of pushing my vehicle to its mechanical limits.
