AIRSHIELD

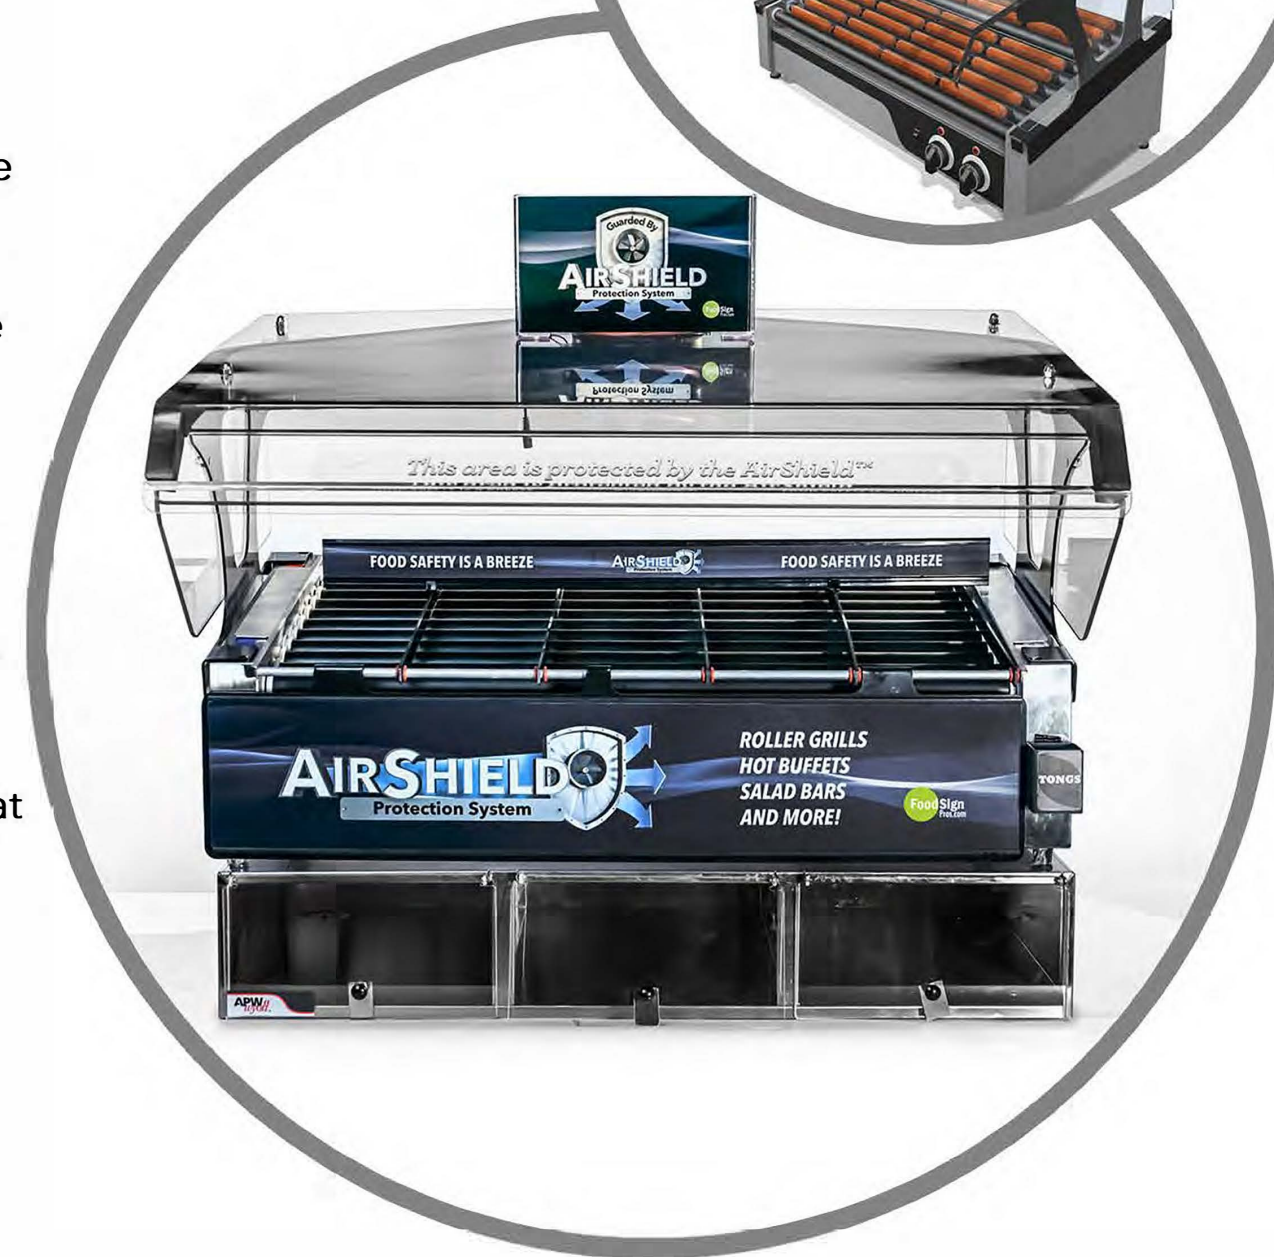

Protection System

The AirShield is comprised of continuously blown air that prevents airborne contaminants from passing through the otherwise unprotected sides of sneeze guards while still allowing full access to the food within. The AirShield can be retrofitted on any preexisting food shield or sneeze guard. For best results, pair your AirShields with FoodSignPros' award-winning food shields and sneeze guards.

The FDA explicitly states that "air curtains" do effectively protect against airborne hazards. (including hazards as large as "flying insects")
