

Helping create safer working environments for the

CIVIL INDUSTRY

New Zealand's thriving civil and construction industry works on time-critical and complex projects; buildings, bridges, and infrastructure often under the added pressure of intense stakeholder and community scrutiny. Alongside that is the responsibility of safeguarding their staff and contractors, the public, the environment, and their companies' reputations.

All reasons why effective, compliant management of dangerous goods on site shouldn't have to be an extra thing to worry about.

Hazero provide instantly compliant, professional, industry-specific storage, containment and control and clean-up solutions. No hassles. No hold-ups. With lease options - so there's no CapEx either.

We have space-efficient, well designed and highly engineered storage for tight, city infrastructure and commercial building sites, protecting against theft or misuse. While fully bunded storage and secondary containment are ideal when working near environmentally sensitive areas including waterways.

From managing oil and epoxy's, through to aerosols, explosives and even sensitive equipment, there's a solution for every challenge.

Forkliftable when empty, outdoor containment Roll Tops provide durable all-weather dangerous goods containment that has all but eliminated a margin for error. The rust-proof units have a hard cover to stop the weather getting in. At the same time, valuable liquids and equipment are kept safe and sound. Any leaks, drips and spills are caught by the internal sump to help with compliance and storm water regulations. And they're available in a range of sizes to suit containers, drums, and IBCs.

Action-ready Controlco Spill Kits help protect worksites from spills, while Sorbent Socks, Marine Booms, and Drain Protectors keep waterways safe from potential contaminants.

Here, we've highlighted just a few relevant issues and solutions that will help improve your workplace safety culture and compliance.

But there's lots more besides.
