Screwdriver

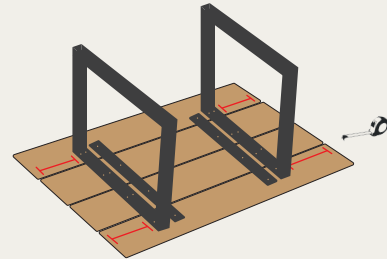

25mm Wood Screws
Included

1.

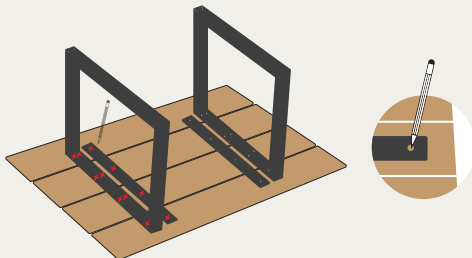

Lay out your planks of wood face down (choose your favourite side) ideally on a soft surface to protect the wood.

2.

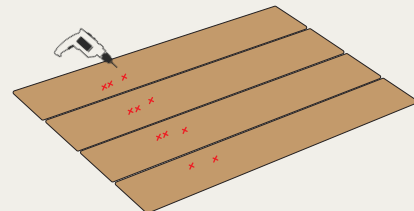

Place your fixing straps and legs onto the planks of wood. Use a tape measure to ensure these are placed equally away from the edge on each side. (Think about where you would like to place your chairs)

3.

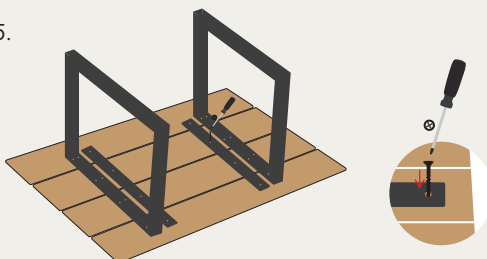

Once you are happy with the location, use a pencil to mark the holes on the table. Smaller tables will not need every hole marking and drilling, as this will land on the joint between the planks.

4.

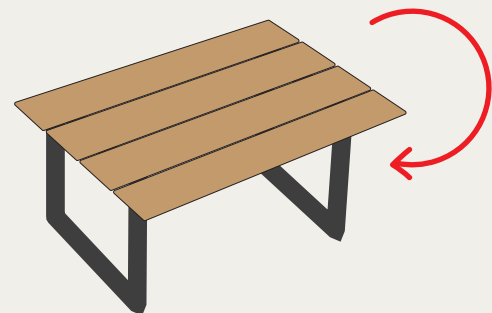

Remove the legs and fixing strap. Use a 3mm drill bit to drill pilot holes into your table 25mm deep in the marked positions.

5.

Place the fixing strap and legs back onto the planks of wood and use a screwdriver to screw into position using the 25mm wood screws.

6.

Once you have finished screwing into place. Get someone to help you flip the table the correct way.
