Malmo Electric Desk

This compact unit is your economical & practical 'work from home' solution. Featuring hidden castors, the Malmo is designed to work where you are – whether you're standing in the kitchen, sitting on the lounge or comfortable in bed, this portable, electric work desk can manoeuvre and adjust to your height and position; seated or standing.

With a two-button, height-adjustable controller, the Malmo is an electric desk that operates via linear actuator to easily transition from seated to standing throughout the day. From a seated, temporary office desk to a standing desk, the Malmo seamlessly extends and lowers between 650-1030mm with the click of a button to suit your environment.

With its unique slide-under frame, this portable office desk optimises on space by transforming almost any room in your home into a functioning, ergonomic workspace.
