Discover moments from the Soucy Fall 2024 "Anthophilia" Bridal presentation unveiled at New York Bridal Fashion Week in October 2023.

"Influenced by my mother's lifelong love of flowers, Anthophilia is a tribute to my life with her and the beauty she creates through nature and the language of flowers. Pure in form and sophisticated in volume, Anthophilia echoes my deep respect for workmanship and the richness of hand-executed painting, embroidery, and draping techniques. Intricate details and combined with the richest materials, from chiffon to crepe, tulle overlays, lace, and silk faille. The softness, delicacy, and transitory nature of blooms rendered in shades of pale rose, lilac, and hints of fresh lime green. Lungs of my homeland, Caracas, this special campaign explores the beauty of flowers through a collection that is artfully poetic, timelessly elegant and forever modern."
