Write a Poem about a girl that has inspired you.

Rosa Parks Poem.

The laws were if you were black on a bus ride you had sit at the back. Rosa Parks refused Rosa Parks refused to be segregated, she was tired of inequality,
 but was fined and arrested.
 Her bravery created a change in the law, the Montgomery bus boycott lasted a year and more.
 Her brave decision not to stand,
 made her famous across the land.

Frances Browne and the power of words

On a bright and sunny day,
Twelve boys and girls went out to play.
The 7th of them was a small blind girl
Who listened, and felt, and described her world.

She rhymed about rainbows,
She rhymed about trees.
She rhymed about fairies
And far galaxies.

All of a sudden,
Before they all knew,
The fairies appeared
And the rainbows did too!

They glittered towards
The tops of the trees,
And summoned up
Twinkling galaxies.

They took the children
Through magical portals,
Further ever than Any mortals.

You see, magical things are not what they seem.
The girl was describing her very own dreams.
And all of the magical things that you've heard
Were all made up by the power of words.
