TWENTY - ONE 1990 - 2011

This year is our 21st Birthday! Celebrating twenty-one years of collecting fabulous and rare coloured gemstones and creating timeless, elegant and beautiful jewellery, Tayma Fine Jewellery has introduced Paraiba, Rubellite and Watermelon tourmalines to the discerning gem collector both in Hong Kong and internationally.

We've moved into a lovely new showroom in the Prince's Building this year, and launched Tayma Studio to showcase a new and younger collection of work x love x play jewellery. Follow us on Facebook for all the latest news and updates.

A celebration or a romantic occasion, jewellery is always a gift of love. Invest in the colours and gems that inspire you and you will always cherish them. Today's gifts are tomorrow's heirlooms.

Each Tayma design is handmade, and there is only one.

PARAIBA CRYSTAL

Spectacular and exotic, these vivid neon blue Paraiba tourmaline and diamond rings once came from a crystal similar to this one. Discovered in the 1980's, this magnificent copper-bearing elbaite tourmaline crystal in its host rock is from the original Mina da Bathalha in the Paraiba state of Brazil. Showing hints of blue and pink, this Paraiba crystal rough specimen shows the diversity and beauty of the gemstone whose discovery would shock the world with its unforgettable blues, ranging from delicate green to Caribbean-sea turquoise to electric blue.

Intense and with a brilliant internal fire, the Paraiba glows in the dark due to its combination of copper and manganese. Radiant hues of blues and turquoise are a result of the copper content, and violet and pink are formed due to the high concentration of manganese. This combination makes the Paraiba tourmaline beautiful but very scarce. The recent discovery of copper and manganese bearing tourmaline in Nigeria and Mozambique is now called Paraiba tourmaline, however due to a limited availability only a few privileged collectors own this alluring and hypnotic gemstone.
