

PARENTING

Educational resources for the home

DR MICHAEL C. NAGEL

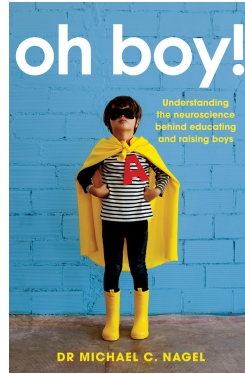

Dr Michael C. Nagel & Shelley Davidow
$39.95
Educational Psychology

Grounded provides a user-friendly introduction to neurological development and highlights that a parent's wellbeing is integral to supporting their children effectively.

Dr Rachael Sharman & Dr Michael C. Nagel
$39.95
Educational Psychology

In this provocative and informative book, Drs Rachael Sharman and Michael C. Nagel take the reader on a journey where nature and nurture intersect.

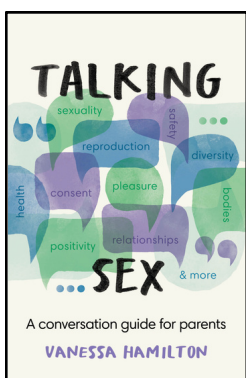

Dr Michael C. Nagel
$39.95
Educational psychology

Oh Boy! takes a close look at the male brain – how it develops, and how it is different – and the crucial role it plays in how a boy thinks, learns and engages with the world.

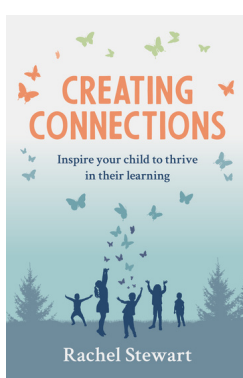

Dr Michael C. Nagel
$39.95
Educational psychology

It's a Girl Thing takes a close look at the female brain – how it develops, and how it is different – and the crucial role it plays in how a girl thinks, learns and engages with the world.

Vanessa Hamilton
$29.95
Sexual health

In Talking Sex, Vanessa Hamilton discusses how human sexuality is complex, interesting, and constantly changing in our society.

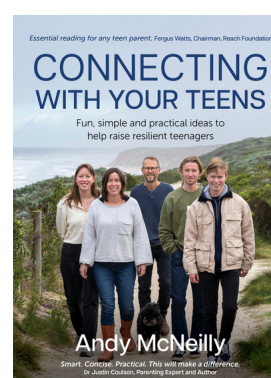

Rachel Stewart
$42.95
Parent engagement

Rachel explores the vital role of parents (and carers) in their children's education, in particular during the transition to learning at school.

Andy McNeilly
$32.95
Children

Connecting with Your Kids is a simple and practical guide for all parents and teachers for all parents and teachers who want to bond with their children while also helping them to develop important life skills.

Andy McNeilly
$34.95
Teenagers

Connecting with Your Teens is a simple and practical guide for all parents and teachers who want to bond with their teenagers while also helping them to develop important life skills.

Andrew Oberthur
$34.95
School transition

Experienced primary school principal Andrew Oberthur provides an accessible roadmap for you and your child to make a successful move into primary school.