“Once the trigger is touched you can't tell who to trust”

Trigger

by C.G. Moore

Teen & YA

New YA from the winner of the 2022
KPMG-Children's Books Ireland Book of the Year winner

Jay wakes in a park, beaten and bruised. He can't remember what happened the night before. But he has suspicions.

Jay realises he has been raped — and that his ex-boyfriend may have been involved.

Counselling sessions cause Jay to question everything. His new friend Rain encourages his pursuit of justice. Jay wants answers, but his search will lead him down a perilous path.

C.G. Moore is an Irish author based in Manchester. Gut Feelings won the Children's Books Ireland Book of the Year Award in 2022 and was nominated for the Carnegie Medal for Writing 2022.

Chris has appeared at festivals including YALC and Bradford Literature Festival. He's a passionate advocate for reading and is happiest when he's meeting and helping to inspire young people.

Dinosaur Pie

by Jen Wallace & Alan
O'Rourke

Age 6+

A funny and warm illustrated debut
by a graduate of the Children's Books Ireland “Raising Voices” mentorship scheme

Rory is having a weird week. A really weird week.

He has been turned into a ridiculous, small, feathered dinosaur. Pretty awkward.

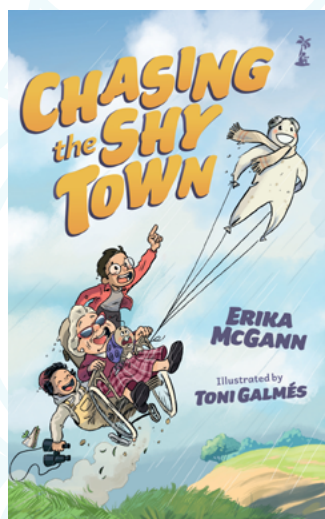

He can't use a human toilet. He can't hold a video game controller in his dino claws. His breath smells really bad. And his new carnivore body can't stop craving sausages.

Rory finally gets his friends to take his embarrassing situation seriously, and together they embark on Operation Make Rory Human Again. But some people don't want them to find out the truth.

Will Rory be stuck as a dinosaur forever?

Jen Wallace loves to write neurodivergent characters so people like her can see themselves in books. She lives in Cork with her family and their cats, goats, chickens and rabbit.

Alan O'Rourke is an Irish illustrator and award-winning, BAFTA-nominated marketer. He lives with his family beside the sea in the northeast of Ireland.

Chasing the Shy Town

by Erika McGann & Toni Galmés

Age 7+

A whimsical, magical tale from one of Ireland's favourite children's writers

Senan doesn't care for adventure. He'd rather watch the world go by from his bedroom window.

But when he spots the Shy Town — a hilltop town that vanishes and reappears on the horizon — he is fascinated. His fearless and fun-loving neighbour, Joshua Robyn, is convinced that she and Senan can find the Shy Town together.

Along with Senan's no-nonsense grandmother, they set out on an epic adventure, encountering wild storms, a boy made of paper, a nervous, beetle-like creature with remarkable abilities, and a mysterious town with an incredible secret.

Erika McGann is an award-winning author based in Dublin. She has written a wide range of children's books, including Where Are You, Puffling? and Tabitha Plimtock and the Edge of the World, which was awarded a White Raven by the International Youth Library. Toni Galmés is a Spanish illustrator who takes inspiration from cinema and comics as well as classic 19th- and 20th-century illustrations.

You Don't See Me

by Chris Ricketts

Teen & YA

A powerful and compassionate own-voices trans novel from a debut Irish author

Ros has finally found Eddy, the girlfriend they've always wanted. But Ros can't tell her the truth: that they are trans, and want to live in a male body.

At a party Ros's classmates "discover" they're a lesbian — but that's not the true story. As Ros's life gets ever harder to navigate, a new friendship with a boy changes everything and Ros confides in him. Once the truth is out, things take on a momentum that Ros can't control.

Ros is surprised that their school turns out to be supportive of their identity. But what's the next move? Hormones? Surgery? And what will happen when Eddy finds out?

Chris Ricketts is a former teacher. They came out as non-binary in the 1990s and have campaigned ever since to raise awareness of trans people's issues, and to make Ireland a more understanding and welcoming place for trans people.

"Ros, the main character, is a version of me. Hopefully, this book will help trans people on their journey, and help others to gain more understanding of trans people's everyday issues."

Someone's Been Messing with Reality

by John Hearne

Age 9+

A fast-paced extra-terrestrial adventure

A fast-paced extra-terrestrial adventure. Martin's parents have disappeared. Also, it turns out, they are aliens. Which makes Martin ...? As Martin and his friend Tina search for his parents, they discover enormous light-emitting eggs in an abandoned mine. It's clear they're not going to be hatching out anything cuddly. Things get worse when their attempts to destroy the eggs result in a hatching of massive killer insects, who immediately go on a rampage to destroy all human life. Oops. As Martin begins to realise his alien powers, he and his friends race to save the world.

John Hearne was born in Wexford in 1970. He worked as an economist in Dublin before changing direction and becoming freelance writer. He has ghostwritten and edited a range of best-selling books, while his journalism has appeared in numerous national and international newspapers and magazines. His first middle grade novel, The Very Dangerous Sisters of Indigo McCloud was published by Little Island in 2021.
