

APRIL 2024

Spring Book Giveaway Day!

We were excited to host our quarterly Book Giveaway Day on March 26th! QCBB distributed 2,949 gently used books to families, teachers, and community partners during this fun-filled day.

Thanks to our wonderful volunteers and special guests who made the day a huge success! Local collegiate athletes read with children in attendance and helped them select books to bring home. We are grateful to all those who donate books or host books drives so QCBB can provide books to children throughout our community.

Our next Book Giveaway Day is Tuesday, July 9th from 9AM to 3PM.

Thank You, Marques!

Marques Warrick, an amazing student-athlete from Northern Kentucky University (NKU), recently broke the NKU Basketball scoring record.

To commemorate this milestone, he wanted to do something for the community that has supported him through his college career. Marques donated $1,000 to the Queen City Book Bank and $2,067 to the Northern Kentucky University general scholarship fund ($1 for every point he scored to break the record).

Thank you, Marques, for your generosity and for being a wonderful role model—both on and off the court!

Volunteer Spotlight: Total Quality Logistics (TQL)

In honor of Volunteer Appreciation Month, we want to recognize a dedicated group that has been supportive of the book bank since we opened! Multiple groups from Total Quality Logistics (TQL) have volunteered with us for various projects and their employees are always eager to help! They have worked at fundraising events, sorted books, and assisted with our signature book distribution program.

Most recently, the group selected books and wrote encouraging notes for summer reading packs to be gifted to each child (K-5) at Arnett Elementary. Over 200 reading packs were assembled! This is the third year TQL has joined us for this special project. Special thanks to Shannon Stahl from Arnett for coordinating this project with QCBB!
